

How to open the car door properly and safely

Opening the car door seemed to be an obvious, very simple job. However, if opened incorrectly and not observed, it sometimes leads to unnecessary accidents.

In addition to the direct collision on the road of cars causing traffic accidents, opening the car door improperly is also the cause of accidents for motorists, other cars, or causing accidents themselves. .

In order to avoid unfortunate accidents from opening a car door, drivers should learn how to open the door and get off, especially when opening the door. The safe way is that drivers always have to observe carefully, to ensure that they are not dangerous to people and other vehicles to open the door.

A lot of drivers are in a hurry or due to a lack of understanding of opening the wrong door, which easily leads to unfortunate accidents. The common mistake is that after stopping the car, pulling the handbrake, turning off the engine, the driver using the left hand zips open the door, the door will burst quickly out of control.

Therefore, the following article of Network Administrator will show you how to open the car door is simple and safe to help you avoid unfortunate accidents.

This way of opening a car door is called Dutch Reach which means: First, the person in the car when he wants to open the car door, instead of opening the door by hand near the car door (left hand), then use the arm on the side the other (right hand) to open the door.

Opening the door by hand away from the door will have 2 advantages, first, because it has to turn around to open the door, they can see the back better. Secondly, by opening with the arm away from the door, the door only opens slightly, not expanding, minimizing the possibility that the rear vehicle will hit.

The application of the skill with this door opener is very important, all the people in the car, in all seats are able to apply this skill, thereby reducing accidents, everyone will be happy. looks happier.

Besides, rearview mirrors are also a very useful tool for any driver. When you want to open the car door you should also observe the rearview mirror to see how the traffic situation behind you is. When there are no people and cars running, gently open the door.

Comply with parking stops in accordance with regulations.

As for motorcyclists, special attention should be paid to cars parked on the side of the road where people are sitting inside. Try to keep a distance from the car as you pass, because the door may open unexpectedly. The safe distance is from 1 meter or more and should be slow if you see a parked vehicle.

Wish you safe driving!

You finished reading the article "How to open the car door properly and safely" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.