

How to Pack for an Overnight Outdoor Festival

Are you preparing for a big overnight festival? Packing wisely can help you have a great time! Choose a Suitcase that will fit your clothes.

Part 1 of 4:

Choosing a Suitcase

Choose a Suitcase that will fit your clothes.

1. Depending on how long you stay, depend on how big your Suitcase should be.

2.

Choose a Suitcase that is sturdy, and is weather resistant. When going to a outdoor music festival, it can rain, and storm, so you want to make sure your Suitcase can keep your clothes dry, and one that won't fall apart if it gets wet.

3.

Use a Suitcase that you can easily carry, or pull. You don't want your bag to be so big that you have a hard time traveling with it.

Part 2 of 4:

Packing Clothes

1.

Research what the weather will be like the days you go.

2.

Pick out your clothes. Below, under Clothes, are some suggestions on what to take.

1. Make sure you pick your clothes to match the weather.

3.

Make a plan of what you want to wear when.

4.

Fold your clothes, so they will fit in your Suitcase.

5.

Using your clothes plan, pack in chronological (E.g, If you are going to the festival on Monday, and will be staying until Friday, pack the clothes you will wear on Friday on the bottom of your bag, and the clothes for Monday, on the top. That way, they will be in order).

Part 3 of 4:

Being At the Site

1.

Find your camp site. This is the first thing you will do when you arrive at your destination.

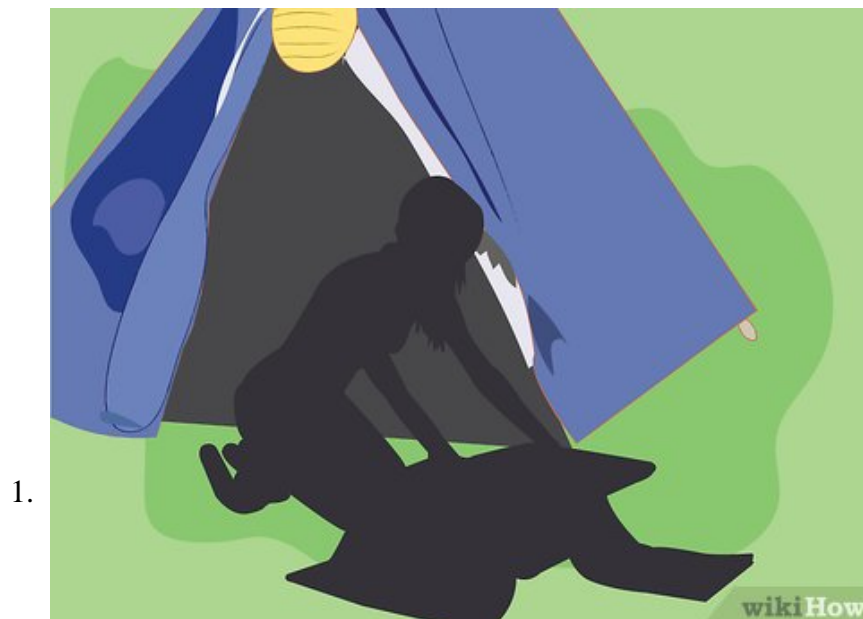

Set up your tent.

1. Remember to put a tarp down under, and over your tent.
2. If you are staying in a RV, or motor home, you will need to get that all set up, and leveled.

Part 4 of 4:

Going Home

Pack up your clothes.

Any clothes you have out of your bag, make sure to put them all back in.

1. Check everywhere you have been to make sure you have everything, and aren't leaving anything behind.

2.

Take down your tent, and pack it up.

3.

Clean up messes. You want to leave your camp site the same way it was when you first arrived.

1. Pick up trash.
2. Take everything you brought with you.

You finished reading the article "How to Pack for an Overnight Outdoor Festival" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.