TipsMake today will show you how to pay for transactions with PayPal on iPhone or iPad. We can buy content across multiple stores using the PayPal app, or link PayPal with Apple Pay (if you use it).

Using the PayPal app

Open PayPal on iPhone or iPad. The app has a blue icon with a white 'P' inside and is usually located on the home screen.

Note: not all stores accept PayPal.

Log in to your account. Enter your login information (or verify your PIN) then tap Log In .

Scroll down and tap In Store . The option has a blue shop outline icon.

If this is your first time using PayPal In Store, tap Let's Go when prompted.

If you haven't set up PayPal to use location services, you'll need to follow the on-screen instructions to set it up now.

Select store. Enter the store name into the 'Find a location' screen at the top of the message, then tap the location in the results that appear.

If the store does not appear, it means that this place does not accept PayPal In Store payment.

Select a payment method. If you don't want to use the default payment method, you can tap it to open the menu and select it again.

Give the payment code to the cashier. The cashier will validate the code to process your payment.

Add PayPal to Apple Pay

Open the iPhone's Settings app, usually located on the home screen. This method will show you how to connect PayPal to Apple Pay so that Apple Pay transactions will be deducted from the linked PayPal account.

Not all stores accept Apple Pay payments.

Tap your name at the top of the menu.

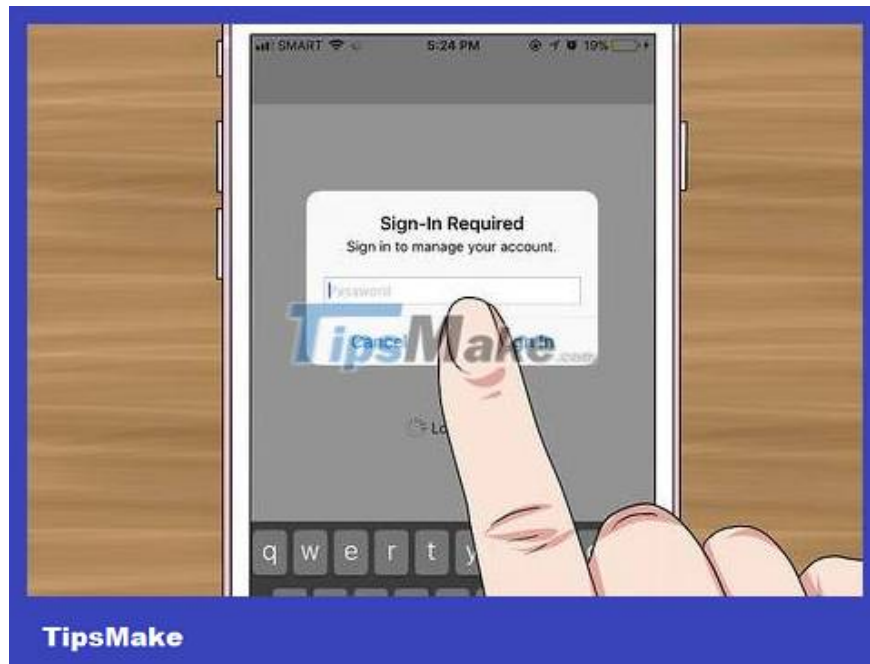

Tap iTunes & App Store .

Tap your Apple ID at the top of the menu. A menu will appear.

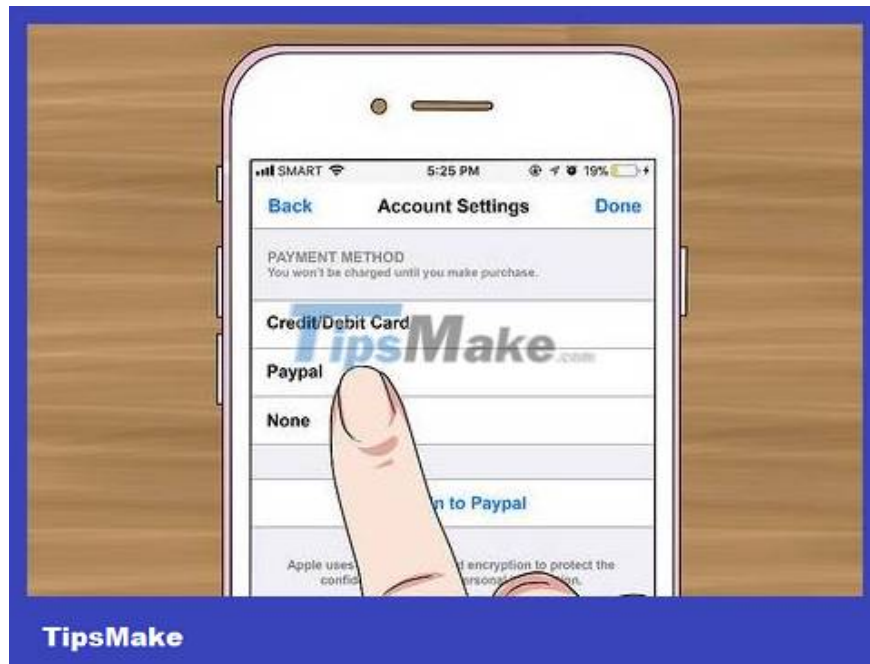

Click View Apple ID . This is the first option.
