

How to prevent and deal with the three burning chambers

If there are three burning chambers, it will cause skin burns, dermatitis, burns like acidity because their bodies contain Pederin (C₂₄H₄₃O₉N) toxins, toxins are 12-15 times stronger than cobra venom. Even this poison still exists in the blood of ants even after they have dried up for 8 years.

If there are three burning chambers, it will cause skin burns, dermatitis, burns like acidity because their bodies contain Pederin (C₂₄H₄₃O₉N) toxins, toxins are 12-15 times stronger than cobra venom. Even this poison still exists in the blood of ants even after they have dried up for 8 years.

What does a three-compartment ant look like?

Three-chamber ants are insects with a slender body like grain but smaller, black tapered belly, winged to half body, long beard, red and black chambers alternating.

This ant species usually appears in the rainy season. It was dark, when the lights went on, they often flew into the house and clung to the walls, bed and mats.

The burn of ant three compartments

1. Three-chamber ants usually appear in open areas like the face, neck, arms, chest, shoulders, and neck.

2. The wound is red in the form of streaks. There are small blisters or pustules in the middle and slightly concave circular or yellow-brown oval.
3. The wound can spread to the healthy skin, the folds if you scratch.

How to treat wounds when exposed to venom or ants with three burning chambers

1. Wash the exposed area with physiological saline to neutralize the ant poison. Take care not to strong tea to avoid scratching or breaking the wound.
2. In the case of minor wounds, only antiseptic, topical application of water, self-limiting disease.
3. In the case of a moderate or severe wound, you must apply a skin-soothing medicine. Depending on the level of the wound, the doctor will appoint the appropriate medication.

If detecting ants, how should the compartments be handled?

1. The author does not use hand to smash and move ants to avoid contact with toxins contained in ant three compartments.
2. If three ants are found on the person just blow them off to the ground.
3. Wear gloves to sweep them into a plastic bag, then tie it tightly and put it in the trash.

How to evict and prevent the three-chamber ants

The triple ants are not insects that transmit disease and they do not actively burn people. On the other hand, they are beneficial insects for farmers, so you should not destroy them but try to find ways to keep them away from your environment.

1. Limit opening, especially areas with lots of trees.
2. Avoid standing under public lighting. When working under lighting, pay attention around because the three-chamber ants often appear in areas with bright lights.
3. Check and rinse your face and clothes before using.
4. Blinds when sleeping to avoid ants three cows on the bed.
5. House cleaning is clean and airy.
6. Planting some kinds of plants to repel insects such as lemongrass and incense . around living areas.
7. In the evening, let the cover cover the light that came out to avoid attracting ants.
8. Avoid direct contact with the three-chamber ants but use gloves, soft towels .

You finished reading the article "How to prevent and deal with the three burning chambers" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.