

How to record iPhone screen video, How to record iPhone screen with sound

The iPhone screen recording feature is really useful, helping you to save interesting moments, or create manual clips. Along with that, to record sound, it will take a small step.

Since iOS 11 launched in 2017, Apple has allowed users to easily record their screenshots while using the iPhone. This feature is really useful, helping you to save interesting moments, or create instructional clips for friends and relatives.

How to record iPhone screen video

To set up the iPhone screen recording function, go to Settings => Control Center => Customize Controls (Settings => Control Center => Customize Controls). Then, navigate to the Screen Recording line and press the '+' to put this feature in the list above.

Picture 1 of How to record iPhone screen video, How to record iPhone screen with sound

To set up the iPhone screen recording function, go to Settings => Control Center => Customize Controls. Then, navigate to Screen Recording and press the '+' to put this feature in the list above. (Photo source: hoanghamobile.com)

Now when you swipe up Control Center, you can click on the Screen Record button. The feature will countdown 3 - 2 - 1, and your screen will be recorded.

Picture 2 of How to record iPhone screen video, How to record iPhone screen with sound

Now when you swipe up Control Center, you can click on the Screen Record button. The feature will countdown 3 - 2 - 1, and your screen will be recorded.

To stop recording, with iPhone 8 Plus or lower, you swipe up and press the Screen Record button again. For iPhone X and later, press the time in the left corner. When a message pops up asking if you want to stop recording, select Stop on the right hand side.

To view the recorded video again, you can go to the Photos app.

Picture 3 of How to record iPhone screen video, How to record iPhone screen with sound

For iPhone X and later, press the time in the left corner. When a message pops up asking if you want to stop recording, select Stop on the right hand side.

How to record a famous iPhone screen

After a period of use, some iPhone users have a problem with the inbuilt screen recording tool not seeing the sound. In fact, this tool also has a voice recording function, but is off by default and the user does not know where to turn it on.

After turning on the iOS 11 screen recording tool as instructed above, there will be a screen recording button in Control Center. But instead of pressing the screen recording as usual, to have the option to turn on the sound recording, we press and hold that button for a while, then press the mic icon to turn on the recording. Finally, please press "Screen Record".

Picture 4 of How to record iPhone screen video, How to record iPhone screen with sound

Instead of pressing the screen recording as usual, to have the option to turn on the sound recording, we press and hold the button for a while, then press the mic icon to turn on the recording. Finally, please press "Screen Record".

You finished reading the article "How to record iPhone screen video, How to record iPhone screen with sound" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.