You need to log in to your Facebook account on your new device but forget your password. Perhaps due to the habit of using Facebook on mobile applications only need to log in once, just open and use without having to enter a password, so you accidentally forgot your password. You tried to retrieve your password memory but failed! Do not be sad, what has been forgotten then let go! Today's article I will guide you how to retrieve your Facebook password quickly and simply in case "remember . forget" happened again!

Step 1: You access the following address <https://www.facebook.com/login/identify>

You enter your email address or phone number to login to your Facebook. You should remember your information such as email or phone number otherwise finding your account will be very difficult. After entering the information, click Search to Facebook search the account for you.

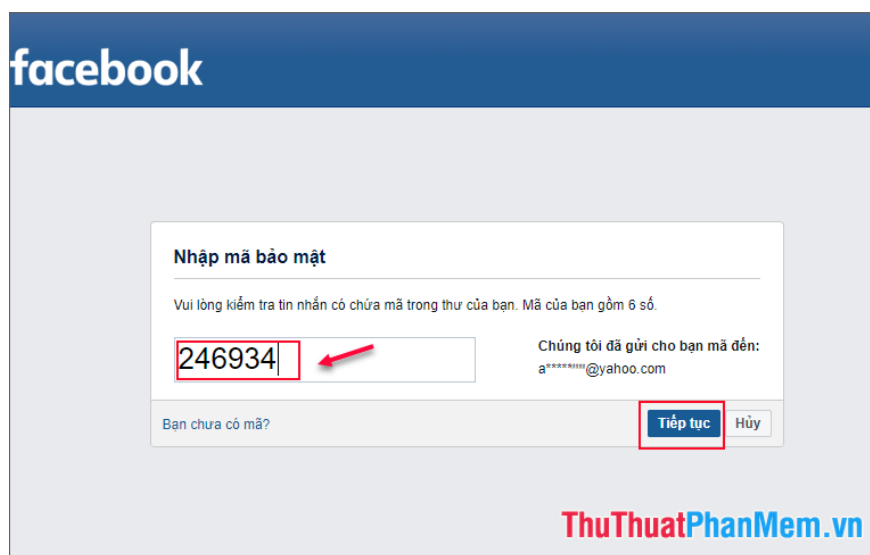

Step 2: After having the search results, Facebook will give you a suggestion to send a verification code via Email. Click Continue to have Facebook send the verification code you provided in Step 1.

Step 3: Check your Email. Facebook will send you an email with a confirmation code below to enter your Facebook security check.

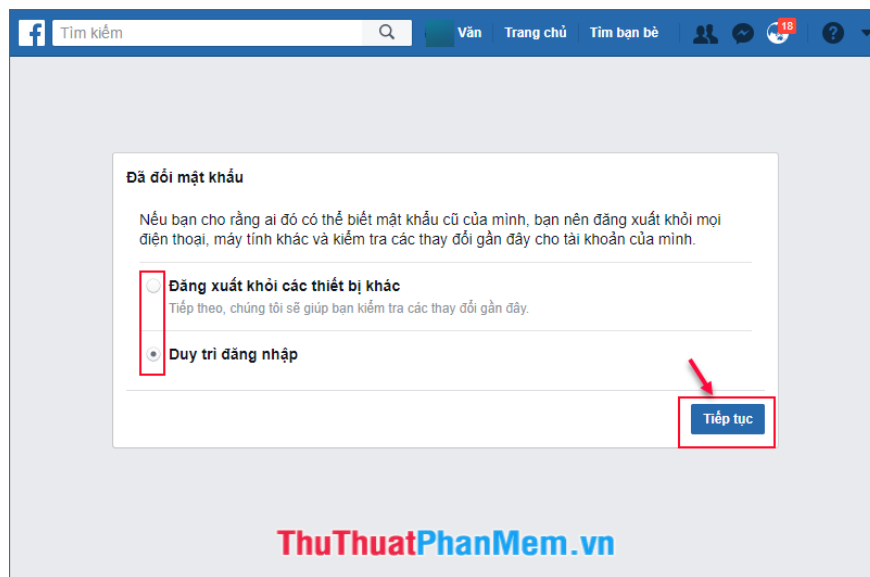

Step 4: Enter the security code sent to you by the Facebook field. Then click Continue to move on to the next step.

Step 5: After confirming your Facebook account, you can change your new password now. Enter the new password box new password and click Continue.

Step 6: That's it. Congratulations on getting your Facebook password back. Now, click on Sign in to keep your account out of other applications like Facebook Mobile or Messenger . If you want to get rid of devices to log back in, click Log out of other devices . Finished, you click Continue .

And the result:

With a few basic operations, you can retrieve the login password for your Facebook account. If you are afraid of forgetting your password again, you can use the remember feature on Chrome, Firefox to save the password. Good luck!
