

How to Revert to the Classic Windows Color Theme on Windows Vista

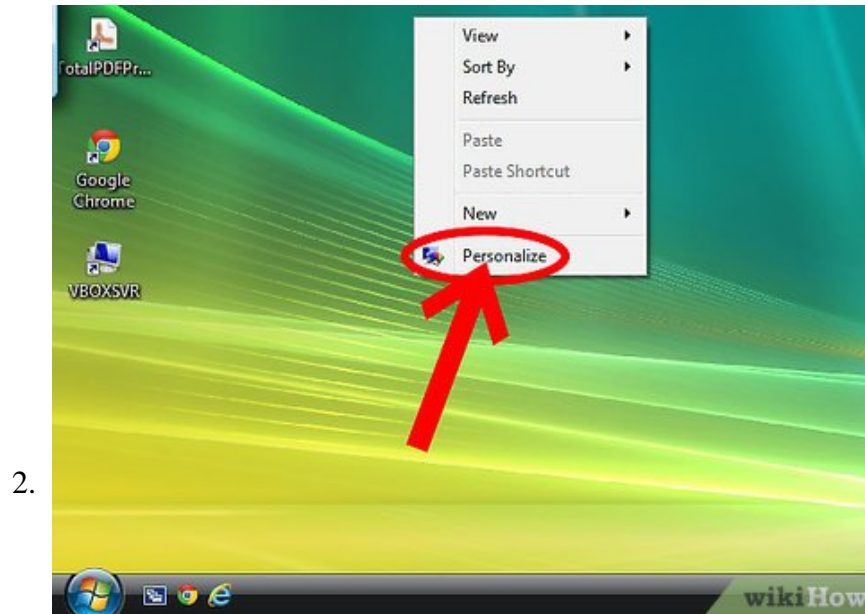

Do you not like the default theme when you open up Windows Vista? Although the black and/or colored items tend to get in some peoples' ways, some people feel adamant that they must change it (to make it look like) the Windows Classic...

Method 1 of 2:

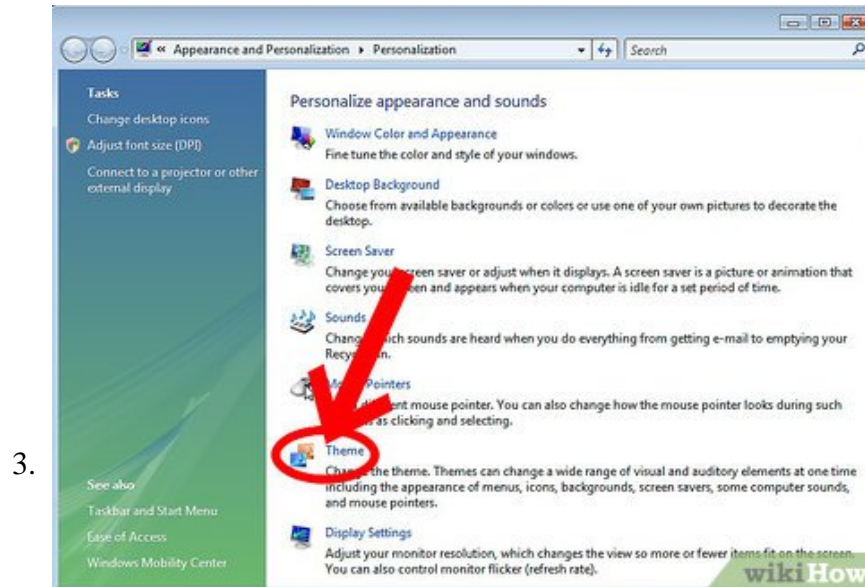

From Theme menu

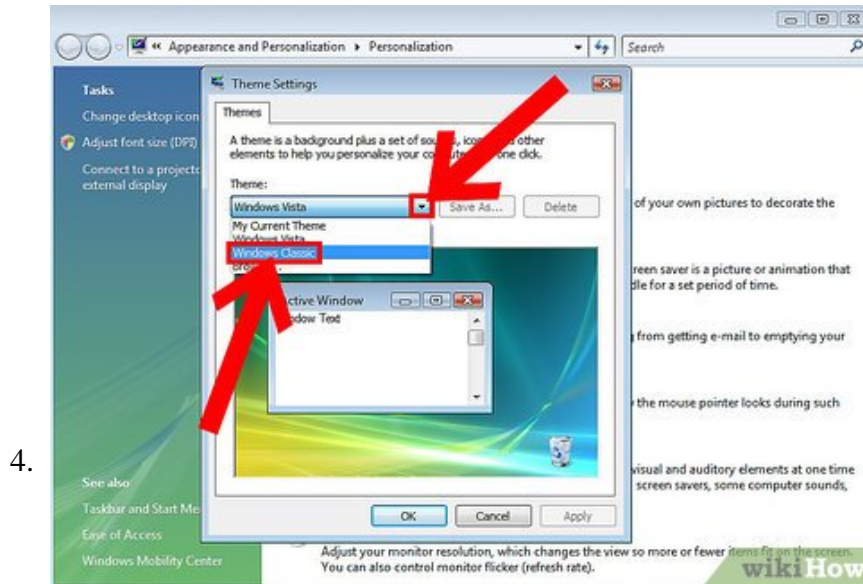

Right click anywhere on the Windows desktop. You'll see a drop-down dialog box show up.

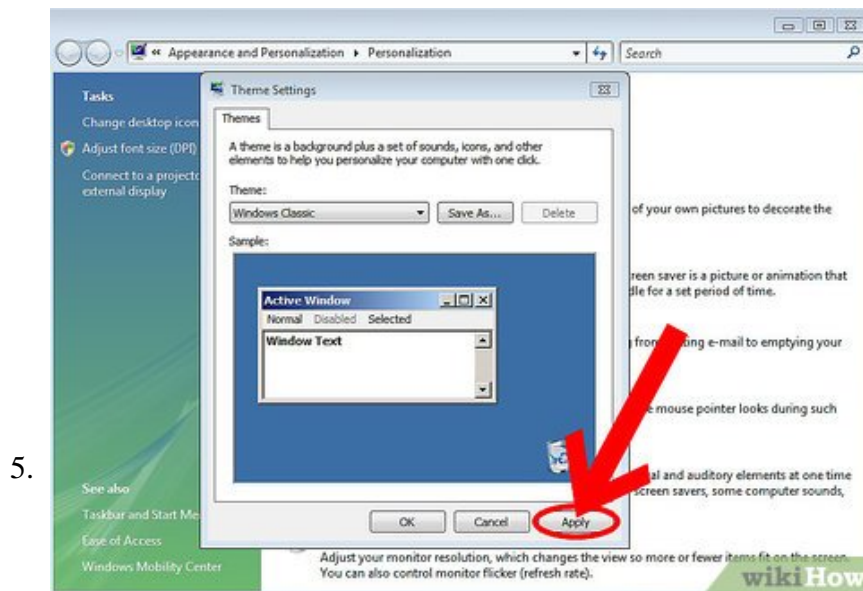

Click the "Personalize" option.

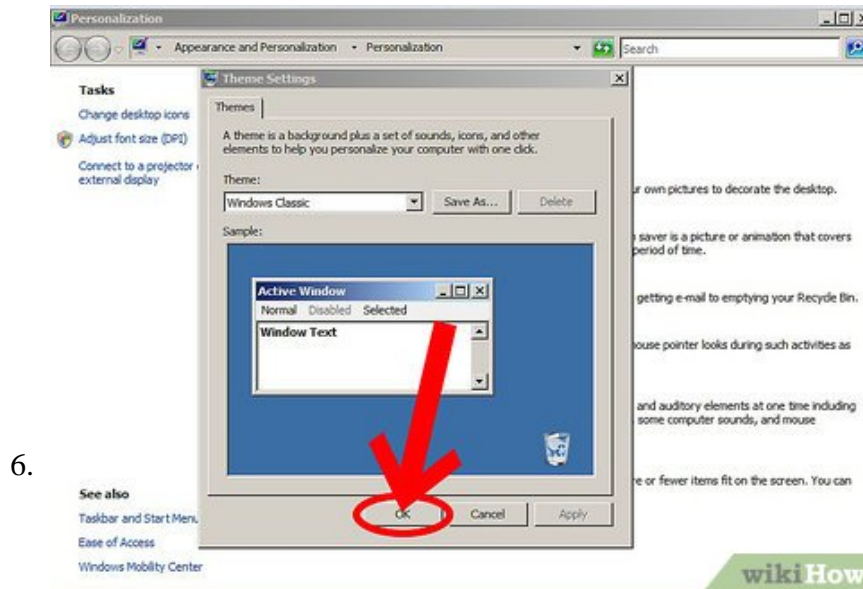

Locate and click the "Theme" option from the list from near the bottom of the new dialog box.

Click the drop-down box underneath the label for "Themes" which contain all theme types that are located on your computer, and click the "Windows Classic" choice. The "Themes" drop-down box/area will be up near the top of the box over near the left-hand side of the box.

Click the Apply button.

Click the "OK" button.

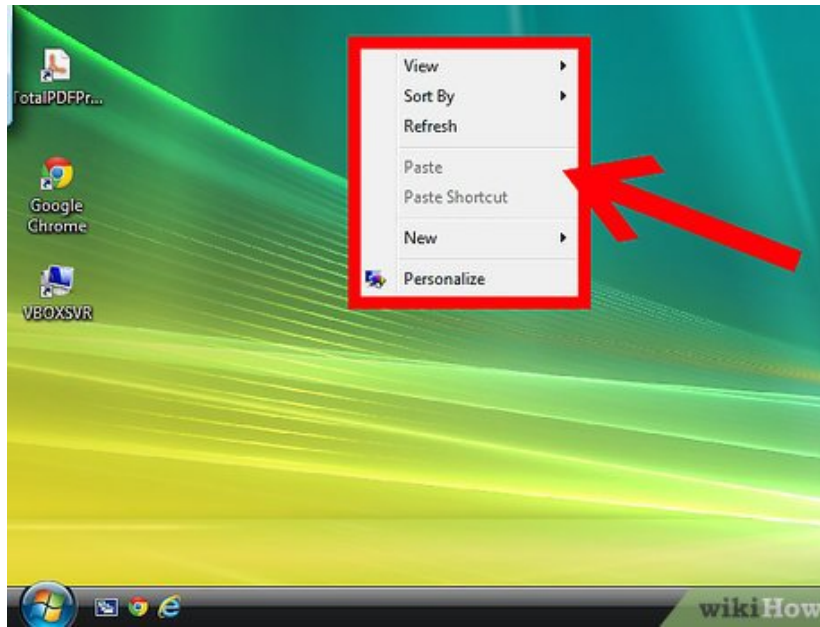

Look at your Windows taskbar. You should now see the standard Windows Classic version's color scheme, along with the smaller Windows Classic border at the top of all of your menus.

Method 2 of 2:

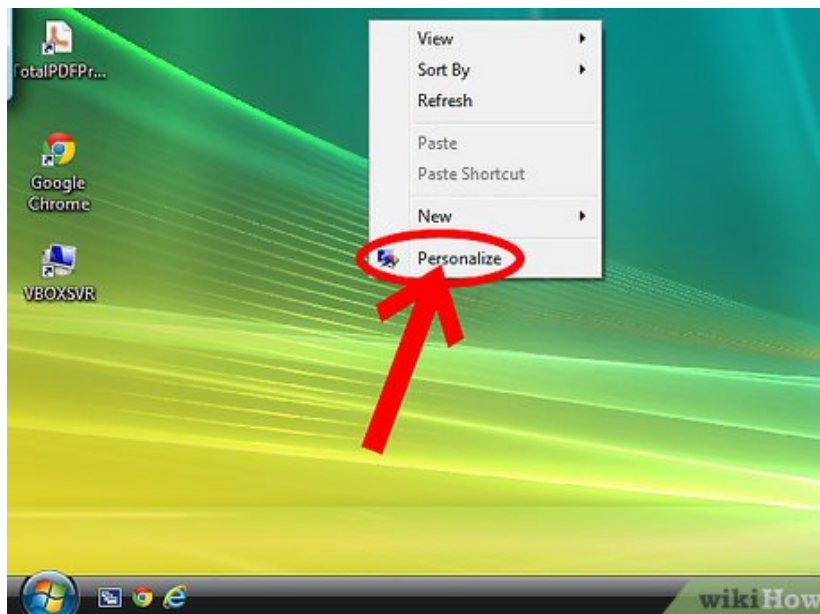

From Windows Color and Appearance section

1.

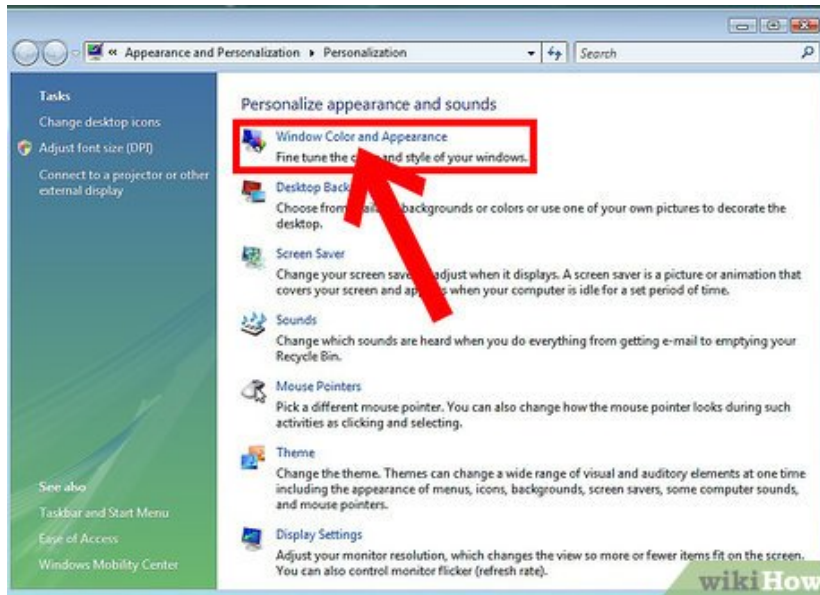

Right click anywhere on the Windows desktop. You'll see a drop-down dialog box show up.

2.

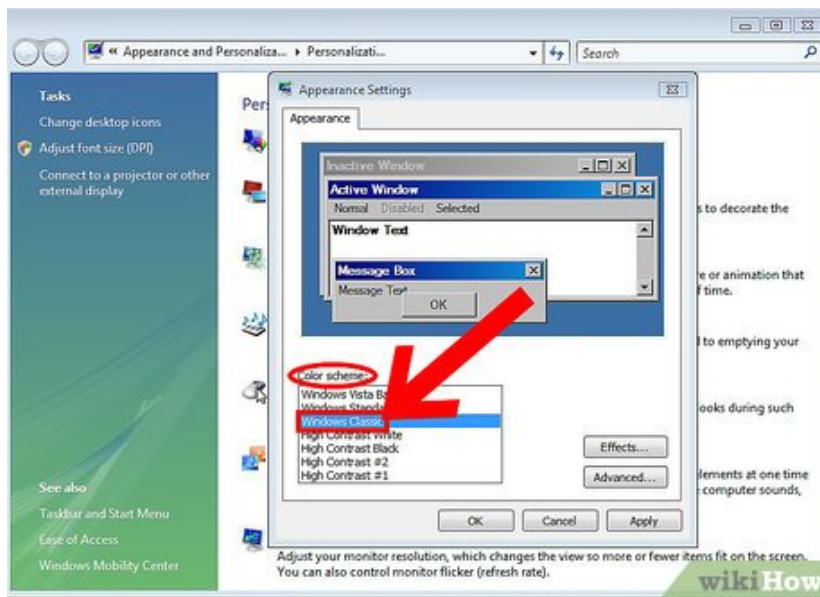

Click the "Personalize" option.

3.

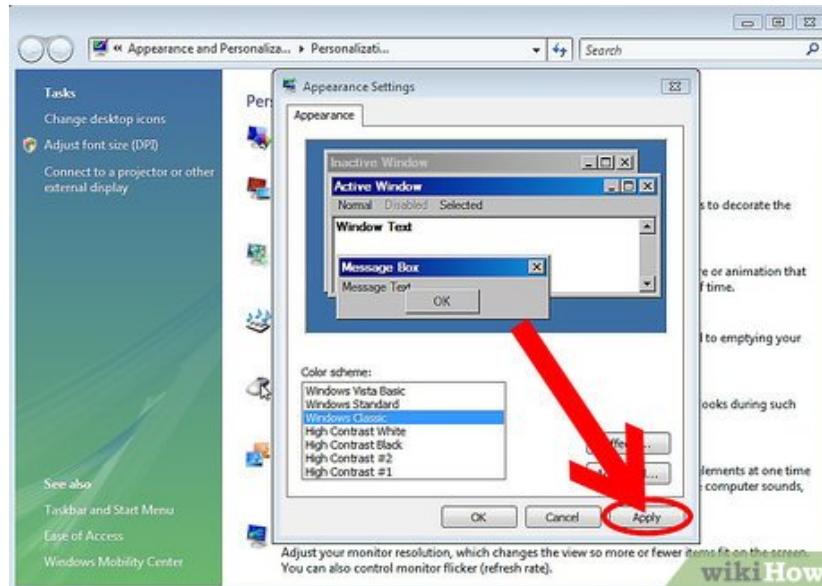

Locate and click the "Windows Color and Appearance" option that is located at the very top option in the Personalize menu.

4.

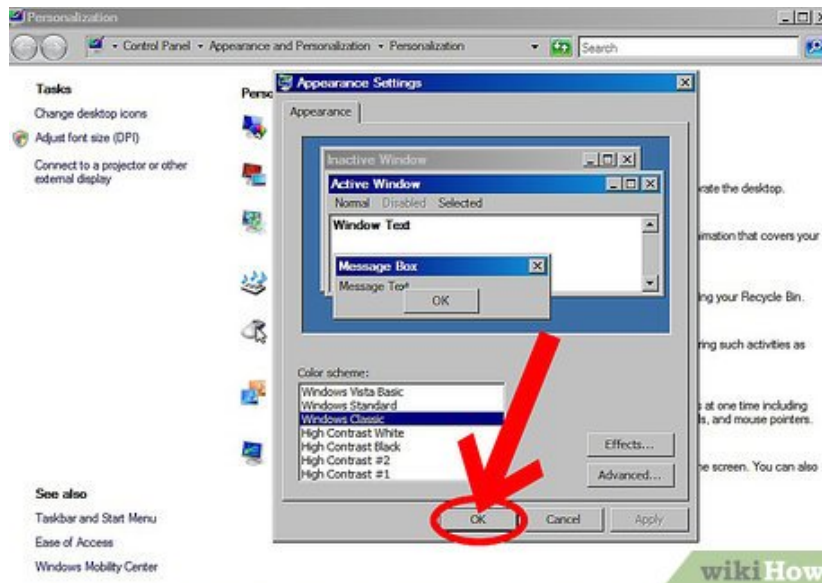

Look for an area called "Color schemes" and select "Windows Classic" from this "Color schemes" area.

5.

Click the Apply button.

6.

Click the "OK" button.

You finished reading the article "How to Revert to the Classic Windows Color Theme on Windows Vista" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.