Instructions to find the post News feed Facebook

To review the News feed posts when surfing Facebook that you accidentally missed, we will visit Facebook.com/seen by following the link below.

1. <https://www.facebook.com/seen>

When clicking on this link, the posts that appear on News feed will display again. Posts such as shared posts from your friends, a Facebook post before you can view them, or posts from certain Facebook pages, etc. will be displayed again. Articles that will display by the most recent post setting will show up at the top.

However, users should note that this implementation is only applicable when viewing web-based Facebook, not when viewing on Android and iOS Facebook applications. The posts do not have links, no images, the wallpaper post status, but only the text does not show again.

With just a very simple operation, users can find the News feed posts accidentally ignored, or refresh the page. Please remember the link above to use in necessary cases.
