

How to set up Gmail, Google Calendar and Google Contacts on iPhone or iPad

If you use Gmail, Google Calendar, Google Contacts and want to set up sync on your iPhone or iPad, follow these simple steps!

If you want to add a Google account to your iPhone or iPad system app, you must go to Settings> Mail or Calendar or Contacts .

Apple is using open standard IMAP, CalDAV, and CardDAV services to handle Google services synchronously, but Gmail only supports IMAP and sometimes it can cause special problems if you like the label system of Gmail. If you want to use its integrated iOS mail application and its unified inbox but don't have a paid account, this is your only option.

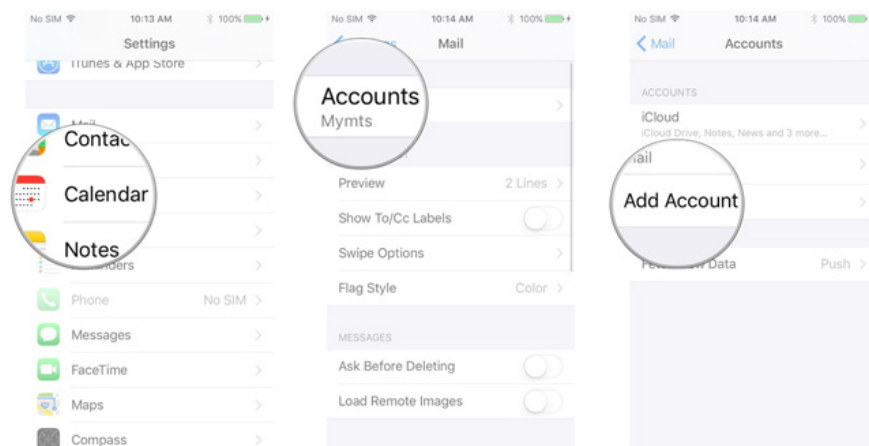

1. How to set up Gmail on iPhone?

Step 1: Launch the Settings app from the main screen.

Step 2: Touch Mail , Contacts or Calendar .

Step 3: Touch Account s .

Step 4: Touch Add Account .

Step 5: Touch Google .

Step 6: Enter your login information into your Google account and click Next after each step.

Step 7: Touch the conversion bar next to each Google service you want to synchronize. If there is a message, calendar, contact or note, tap Keep on My Phone or Delete each time you turn on a service.

Step 8: Click Save in the top right corner of the screen.

After saving your account, you can access the installation at any time by tapping the Gmail section under the Accounts heading. If you want to change the description from " Gmail ", click the Account button, then click the Description field. In addition, users can choose to run Google services in iOS applications.

See also: How to set up iCloud email, contacts and calendar on iPhone or iPad

I wish you all success!

You finished reading the article "How to set up Gmail, Google Calendar and Google Contacts on iPhone or iPad" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.