Installing Google Sync on iPhone or iPad is almost identical to Exchange. You only need to have a paid Google account and follow the following settings.

1. How to set up iCloud email, contacts and calendar on iPhone or iPad
2. How to set up Gmail, Google Calendar and Google Contacts on iPhone or iPad

Step 1: Launch the Settings app from the main screen.

Step 2 : Select Calendar .

Step 3: Touch Accounts .

Step 4: Touch Add Account .

Step 5: Touch Exchange .

Step 6: Enter your email and password for your Gmail account or Google account (the description field will automatically update as an email address).

Step 7: Click Next .

Step 8: Enter m.google.com as Server .

Step 9: Leave the Domain field blank.

Step 10: Enter your full Gmail email address or Google account as your username.

Step 11: Click Next .

Step 12: Touch the sliders next to the account of each service you want to sync with your iPhone or iPad. If there are calendars, contacts, or messages on iPhone, a message will appear asking you to keep or delete them. Touch the option you want.

Step 13: Touch Save .

So Gmail Calendar and other Google services will be synchronized with the iPhone app, so any current or new events made in your Google account or on the iPhone will be displayed and updated at both.
