

How to share phone numbers and locations on Viber

On Viber now allows users to send data such as files, phone numbers, addresses right on the chat interface of the application.

Most chat and texting applications now update to send data features like Zalo, Messenger, to help users more convenient in the process of exchanging with friends. In the new version of Viber application, we were able to send the file, especially sending the phone number and current location.

Providing more phone numbers will help you send contacts faster than before, when users don't need to spend time searching for numbers and entering numbers. However, if you need to be aware that you can send your phone number and current contact address on the Viber application, we need to allow Viber to access the current location on the phone as well as synchronize the phone book. on the application.
