

How to synchronize the clipboard between Windows and Android

You can control Android on Windows, or synchronize the clipboard between Windows and Android for convenience in your work.

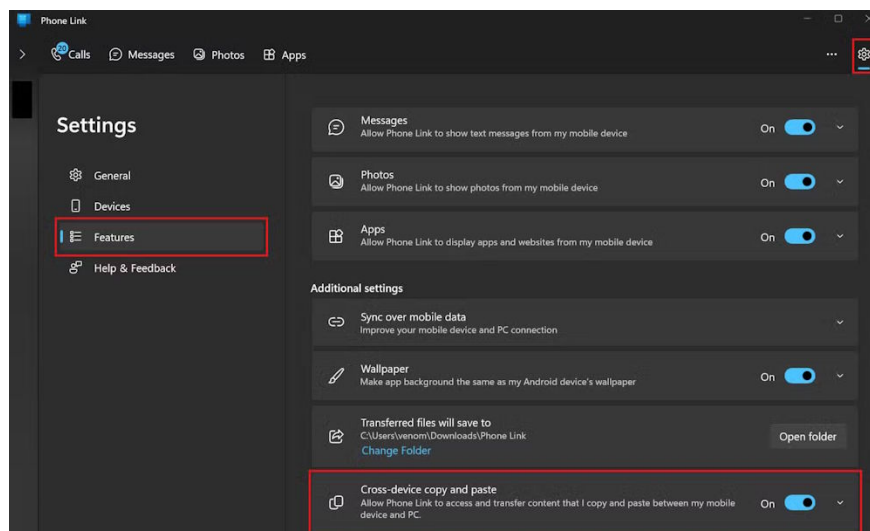

Windows and Android are now easily linked through various methods. You can control Android on Windows, or synchronize the clipboard between Windows and Android for convenience in your work. Below is a guide on how to synchronize the clipboard between Windows and Android.

Use Windows Phone Link to sync the clipboard.

Windows Phone Link is an application that helps connect your Android devices and computer, including syncing clipboard data.

Step 1:

First, open the Phone Link application on your computer, then go to Settings > Features > Cross-device, copy and paste the settings , and activate this option .

Step 2:

Open the Phone Link Android app and log in with the same Phone Link account you used on your computer. Next, access the SwiftKey Keyboard app settings . Tap the three-dot icon in the upper right corner of the keyboard. Then select the settings icon and enable clipboard synchronization in the keyboard settings.

← Clipboard

Remember copied items

All copied text will be saved in clipboard

Remember screenshots

Grant full image access for screenshots to be saved in clipboard

Single column view

Switch on for single column view

Sync clipboard history

Copy and paste text from your other Windows devices. When this is on, Microsoft receives your clipboard data to sync across your Windows devices.

Show last copied item as quick paste option on prediction bar

When this is off, your last copied item from another device will only be shown in your clipboard history

+ Add a new clip

Tip
Text and images you copy will automatically show here

Tip
Pin clipboard items to stop them expiring in 1 hour

Note that you need to enable clipboard history mode on Windows .

When you copy something from your phone, it will appear in your computer's keyboard history. Press the Windows key + V to access it.

You finished reading the article "How to synchronize the clipboard between Windows and Android" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
