Sometimes on your phone screen, suddenly a funny image or a funny comment line on social networks! You want to immediately share what you just saw with your friends, take a screenshot and share that moment right away. If the previous article, Thuthuatphanmem.vn shared how to take screenshots on iPhone quickly and simply, today's article I will show you how to take screenshots of Android phones quickly and conveniently.

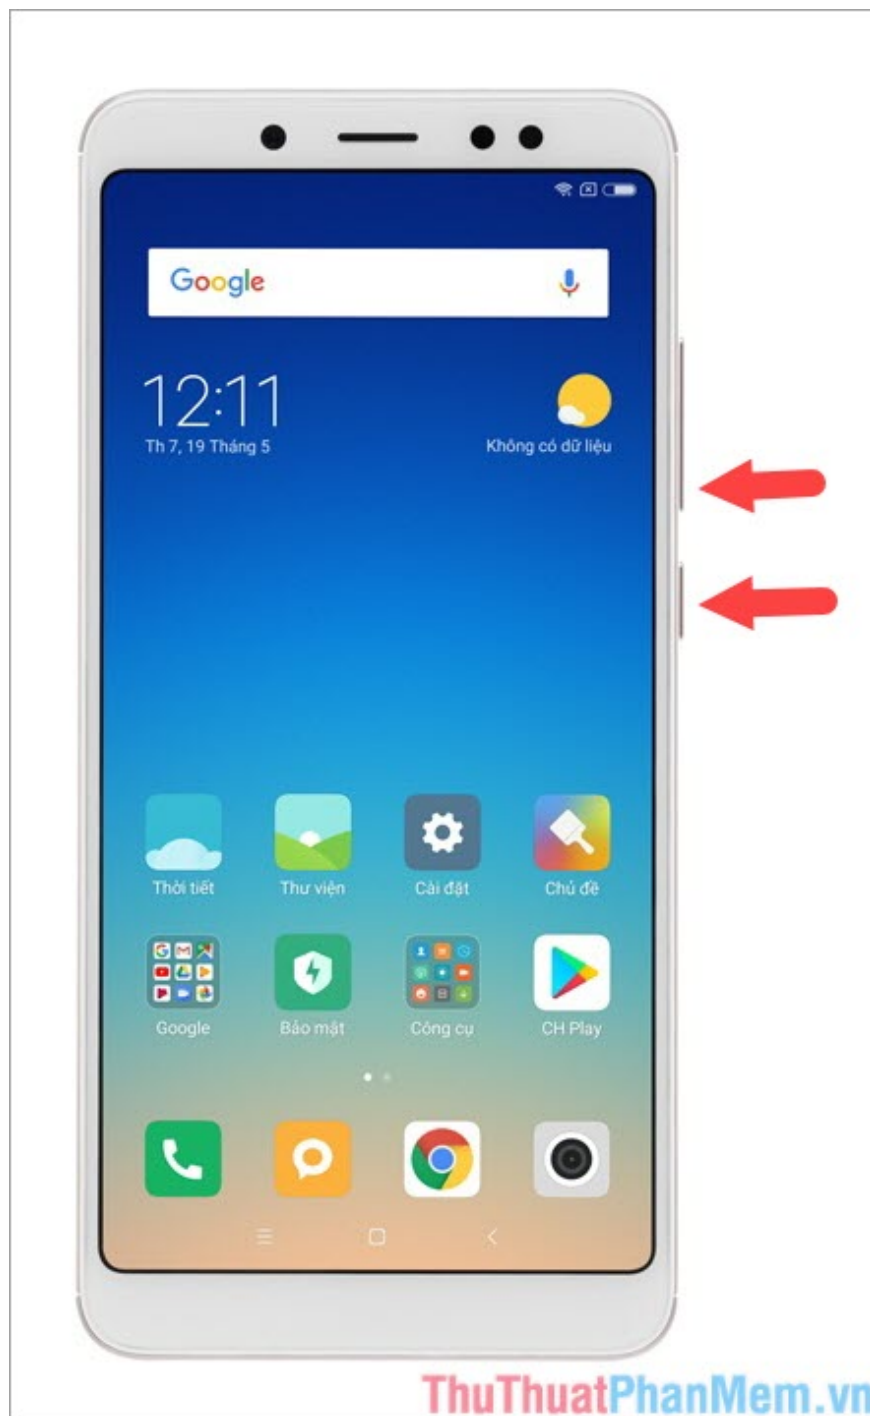

There are two ways to take photos on an Android phone: taking them with a hard key (Power + Volume down or Source + Home) and taking them with the virtual accessibility key.

1. Take a screenshot using hard keys

For phones with the Home button as on Samsung models, we take screenshots by pressing the Home + Power key combination.

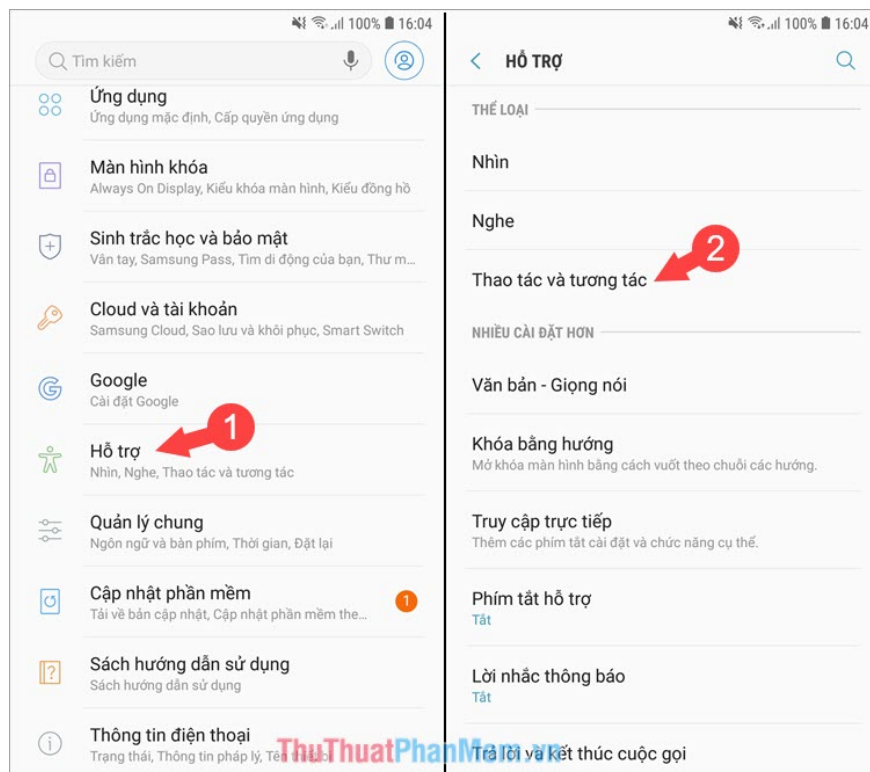

In addition, you can take screenshots by pressing Power + Volume down . This method applies to phones that use a virtual Home button such as Sony, Xiaomi, Huawei .

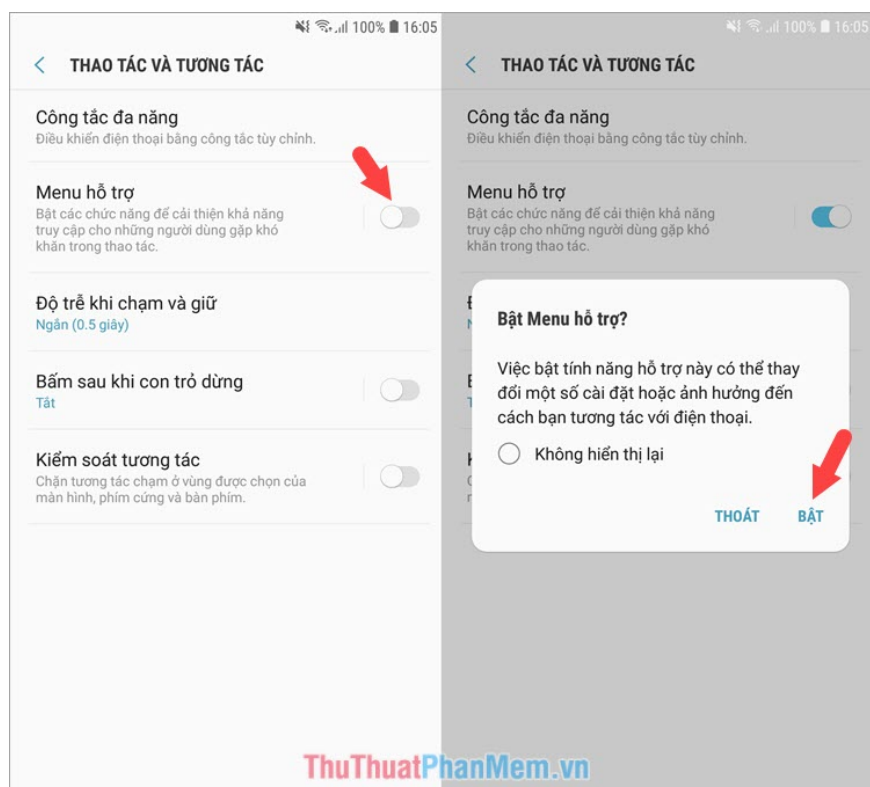

2. Take a screenshot using the virtual accessibility key.

For Samsung Galaxy series

Step 1: First, go to Settings => Support => Actions and interactions.

Step 2: You turn the switch on the Support menu to on and follow the instructions. After enabling the Support menu, a dot appears on the side of the screen. You operate on the support menu to take a screenshot.

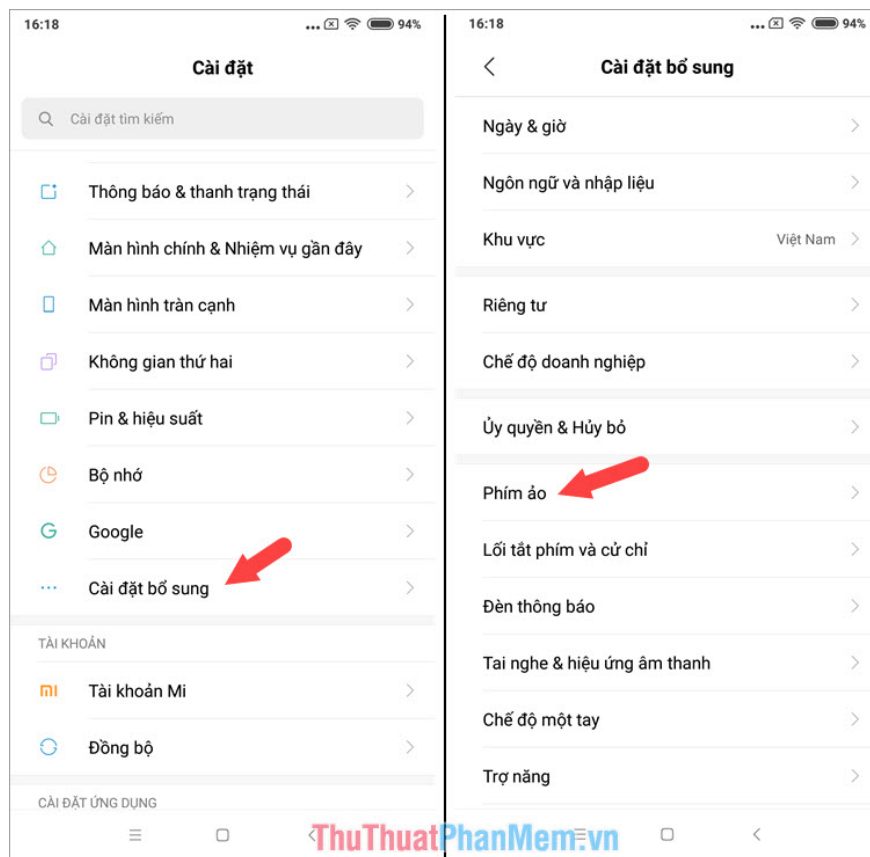

Step 3: To take a screenshot, touch the support menu and select Screenshot . The screenshot will automatically save to your gallery.

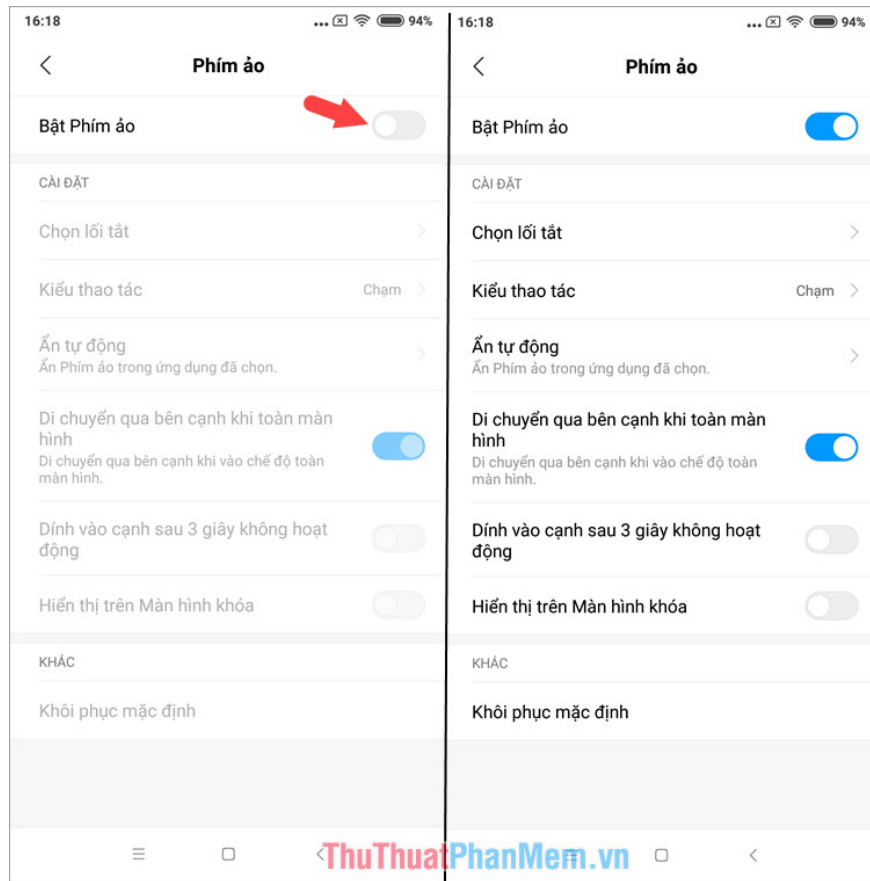

For Xiaomi devices

Step 1: First we will turn on the virtual accessibility key by going to Settings => Additional settings => Virtual keys.

Step 2: You turn the switch Turn on the virtual key is turned on is finished.

Step 3: To take a screenshot using the virtual accessibility key, touch the virtual accessibility key and select the scissors icon to take a screenshot.
