

How to transfer songs on Youtube without having to go directly to the tab on Chrome

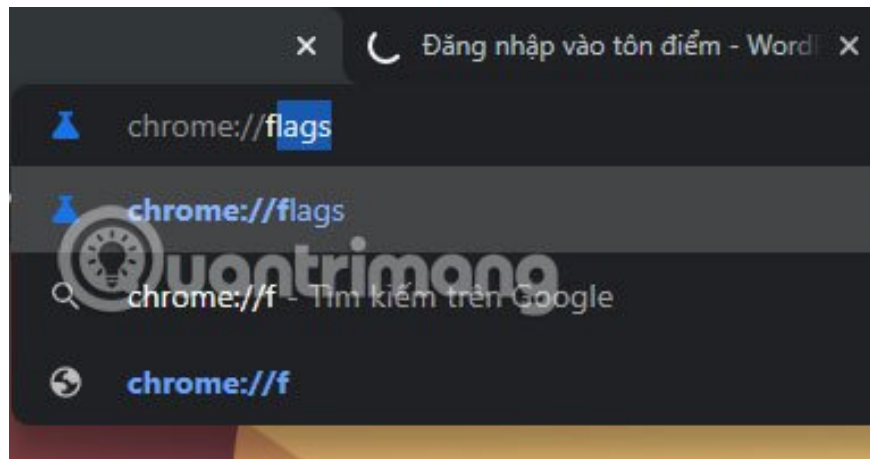

With this YouTube mini player, you won't need to go directly to the Youtube tab to pause / disable or skip tracks.

Which websites do you listen to frequently, Zing Mp3, Nhaccuatui, Spotify . or on Youtube. There will probably be content on YouTube that regular music sites or music apps don't have.

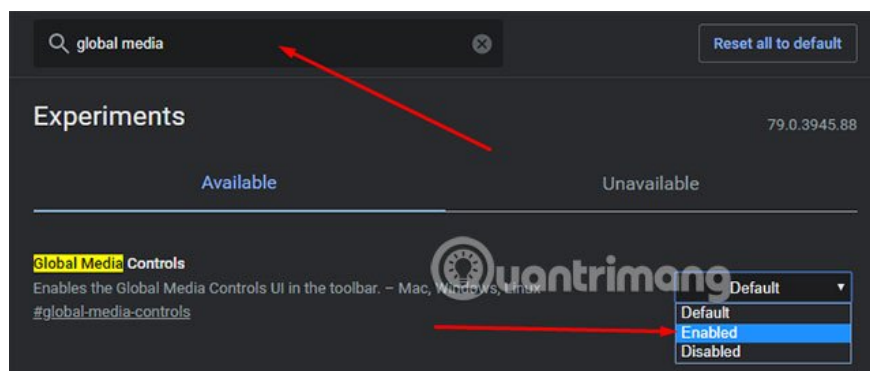

And YouTube currently has a lot of support tools to help users enjoy the above content in a much more convenient way. A feature that can help users to open the YouTube player without having to go directly to the Youtube tab. This player will help you fast forward, pause or continue . Here are instructions for turning on the Youtube player while in other tabs on Chrome.

Instructions to open the Youtube player while in other tabs on Chrome

Step 1: On Chrome, type chrome://flags and press Enter .

Step 2: Then, type Global Media Controls in the search box and enable Enable below to turn on the YouTube player and restart Chrome.

Next you will see a new music playing icon in the browser toolbar. Play a song on Youtube and click on it to see the discovery. In this player you will see what is playing and you can stop / play the content you are listening to on Youtube, or rewind / forward .

differs from the extension. You can also open this YouTube player in an incognito browser.

Obviously with the music player as above in this article, controlling music content on Youtube will be much easier than if you are working in another tab, you have to go directly to the Youtube tab to pause the content. dung is listening.

1. How to download and use Youtube Vanced on your phone
2. How to change the YouTube interface with SuperYouTube
3. How to open YouTube playlists in VLC

You finished reading the article "How to transfer songs on Youtube without having to go directly to the tab on Chrome" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.