

How to trim the incense sticks (incense) only, don't worry about being 'committed'

Clean up the altar, draw the legs, and burn the incense in the last days of the year. And pruning the foot of the incense does not violate the big problems, you should keep in mind some of the notes below.

Clean up the altar, draw the legs, and burn the incense in the last days of the year. And pruning the foot of the incense does not violate the big problems, you should keep in mind some of the notes below.

Usually, families often clean up the altar, the altar, the worship room after offering the Kitchen God. This is like cleaning up a clean "seat" for the tools after a long year. In the work of cleaning the altar, pruning the foot of the incense or also known as pruning the foot is a very important thing, it should be done carefully and respectfully.

The pruner is usually the landlord or undertakes the ceremony in the house. Before carrying out pruning, you must clean and clean your hair, hair, clothes neatly and seriously, especially wash your hands.

Many homeowners are careful to have the ceremony to ask permission from the tools before cleaning. After applying for permission, it is necessary to prune each foot of incense until some odd remains, usually 3, 5, 7 or 9 incense sticks in the incense bowl. The number of pruned incense sticks will be turned into ash, then poured into rivers and streams.

While pruning the incense sticks, many places believe that it is necessary to keep the incense bowl unmoving, unmoving, turning the other direction.

The ash of the incense sticks should be released in the clean water of the river and stream, without garbage or unclean. Do not put the ashes in the trash, put together with the non-pure objects.

To clean the incense bowl, you can use ginger wine, remember to buy a new wine and use the new ginger, wash and crush, mix into the wine. Use a clean, new towel, absorb alcohol, one hand to hold the incense bowl, one hand carefully wipe it clean, and add perfume to the aroma towel.

Note, when performing cleanup, cleaning the altar and pruning incense , all items must be new, clean or may be old items but must be used exclusively for these tasks.

After pruning the incense, cleaning the incense bowl, you can ask for permission to rinse the cup of water, the cup of wine, the flower vase, the lamp, the plate to display the fruit, . so that the temple is clean and fragrant, prepare carefully to receive He came back to celebrate Tet with his family.

The vow to clean the altar:

Male model a Da Da Buddha!

Male model a Da Da Buddha!

Male model a Da Da Buddha!

I prostrate to the nine worlds, the ten directions of the Buddhas, the Buddhas of the ten directions

I would like to prostrate to the father of the Emperor Hoang Hoang King, the Queen of the earth, the five directions of the earth, the long earth, the God of the Sun, the mandarin of the army.

Primary creditors are: ...

At:

I would like to pray to the souls of the elusive nuns, the grandmother and her grandmothers of the generations, his strength, the red girl, the red boy of the family . at . (the place only houses, hometowns).

Today is the 23rd of December . . I will ask for permission to leave the family altar to clean to see off the old year, to welcome the new year, I hope the Buddhas, the ancestors of the ancestors, her grandmother, grandfather, red girl, their red boy . approved.

For more information: Worship of the Year of the New Year on the 30th New Year

You finished reading the article "How to trim the incense sticks (incense) only, don't worry about being 'committed'" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.