

How to turn off automatically add the application icon to the Home screen Android Oreo

When downloading the application on Android will appear to add an application icon to the main screen. On Android Oreo, users can turn off automatically adding applications to the Android Oreo screen.

Android 8.0 Oreo is the latest version of the Android operating system so far. Android 8 adds many new and upgraded features compared to previous versions. One feature that we often see when downloading apps on Play Store is, the app icon will automatically be added to the main screen. This will cause quite a screen mess when you download and install the application.

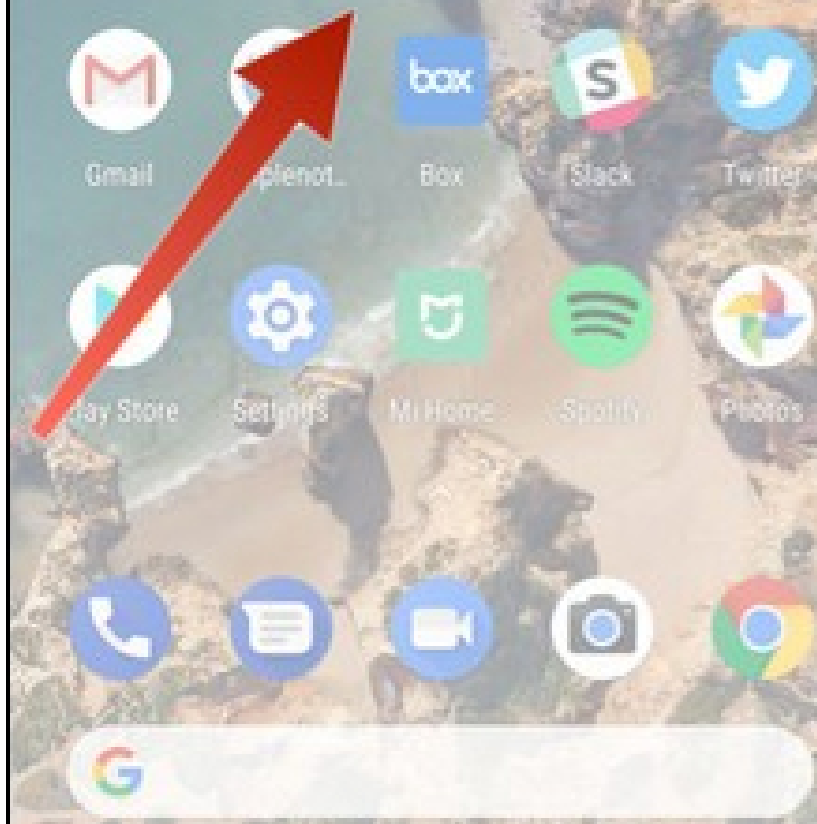

However, on Android Oreo, there is an option to turn off automatically adding application icons on the Home screen, which helps to make the screen more compact. It is also very easy to turn off automatically adding application icons on Android Oreo.

1. How to bring Android 8.0 Oreo to old phones
2. 9 security reasons you should upgrade to Android 8.0 Oreo
3. Instructions on how to customize the notification center on Android Oreo - No need to root

Turn off automatically adding icons to Home screen Android 8

First, users turn on the minimized mode to display the main screen settings buttons. Next, click on Home settings. Finally, you just need to turn off Add icon to home screen.

Friday, Jan 19

Friday, Jan 19

Email

Messages

App Store

YouTube

Twitter

Play Store

Settings

Calendar

Spotify

Photos

WALLPAPERS

Weather

Home settings

Notification dots
On

At A Glance
At the top of your Home screen

Add icon to Home screen
For new apps

Display Google app
To the left of the main Home screen

Display app suggestions
At the top of your All Apps list

Allow Home screen rotation
When phone is rotated

About

So when we install a new application from Google Play Store on Android 8, no more app icons will appear on the main screen interface. This will help make the screen on Android Oreo more compact.

See more:

1. The most notable new feature of Android 8.0 Oreo
2. How to turn off the 'Is Displaying Over Other Apps' notification on Android Oreo
3. How to customize battery saving mode on Android Oreo

You finished reading the article "How to turn off automatically add the application icon to the Home screen Android Oreo" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.