

How to turn off contact photos in iPhone Mail

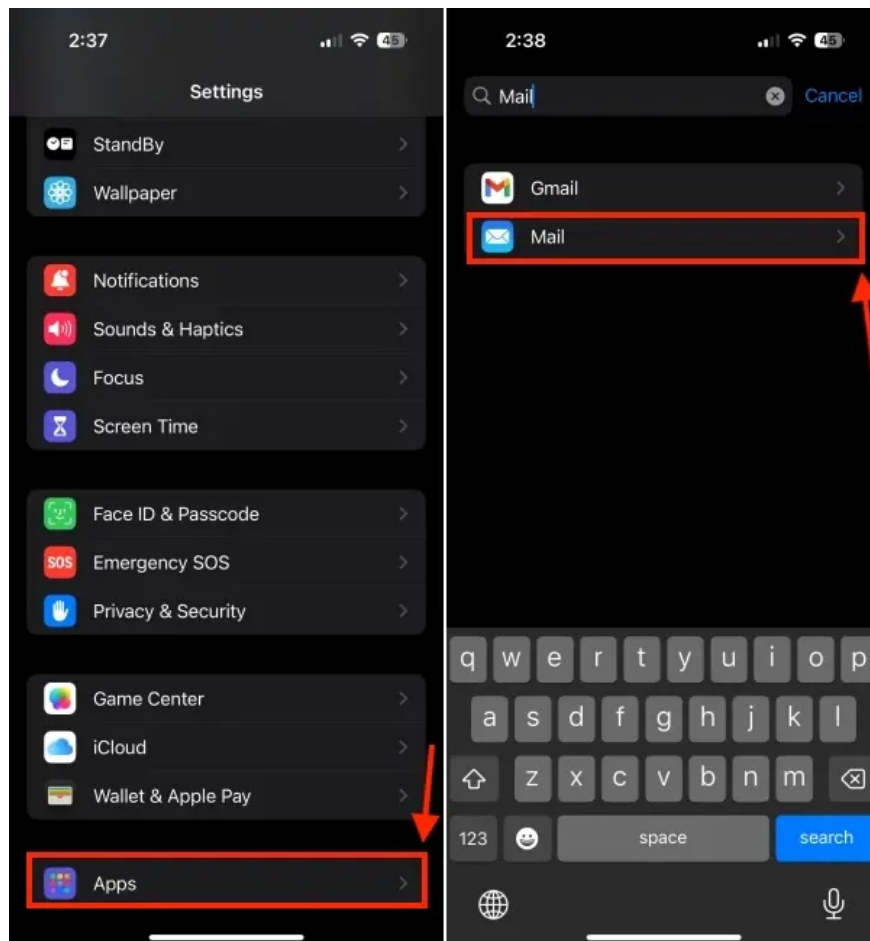

When you receive an email on your iPhone, the Mail app displays the contact photo and logo next to it. If you don't like the contact photo because it's confusing, follow the steps below.

The new iOS 18.2 update brings some big changes to the Mail app with sorting and prioritizing features. Additionally, when you receive emails from verified friends, family, or businesses, the Mail app will display the contact photo and logo next to it. However, many people do not like displaying contact photos because it is confusing. Here is a guide to turn off contact photos in iPhone Mail.

How to Turn Off Contact Photos in iPhone Mail

Step 1:

First, go to Settings on your iPhone, then click on Apps and find the Mail app to adjust the settings.

Step 2:

Go to the settings interface for the Mail application, scroll down below the Message List section and you will see the Show Contact Photos setting to turn off this option .

2:38

45

< Apps

Mail

ALLOW MAIL TO ACCESS

- Siri >
- Search >
- Notifications >
Banners, Badges
- Cellular Data

Default Mail App Mail >

MESSAGE LIST

- Show Contact Photos
- Show To/Cc Labels
- Preview 2 Lines >
- Swipe Options >

MESSAGES

- Ask Before Deleting
- Privacy Protection >
- Follow Up Suggestions

Then you access the Mail application again and you will see the contact photo in Mail is hidden, returning to the original Mail interface. If you want to display it again, you just need to activate the Show Contact Photos option.

You finished reading the article "How to turn off contact photos in iPhone Mail" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
