

How to turn off / hide Facebook nick even when online

With just a few simple steps, you can completely hide yourself while online on Facebook, have more privacy and avoid being bothered.

Opening up a wide space for information exchange and conversation, Facebook has become an entertainment and work-out tool for many users today. Besides, with Facebook Messenger application, users can still contact friends without having to access Facebook.

During use, sometimes you will be bothered by unrelated messages. Or want a private space to be able to do your own work, surf the web without wanting to be a session. But Facebook messages are constantly being sent because we are in Online mode. The best way is to go to Offline status and no one can send you messages. However, when "hidden", can we still receive the message?

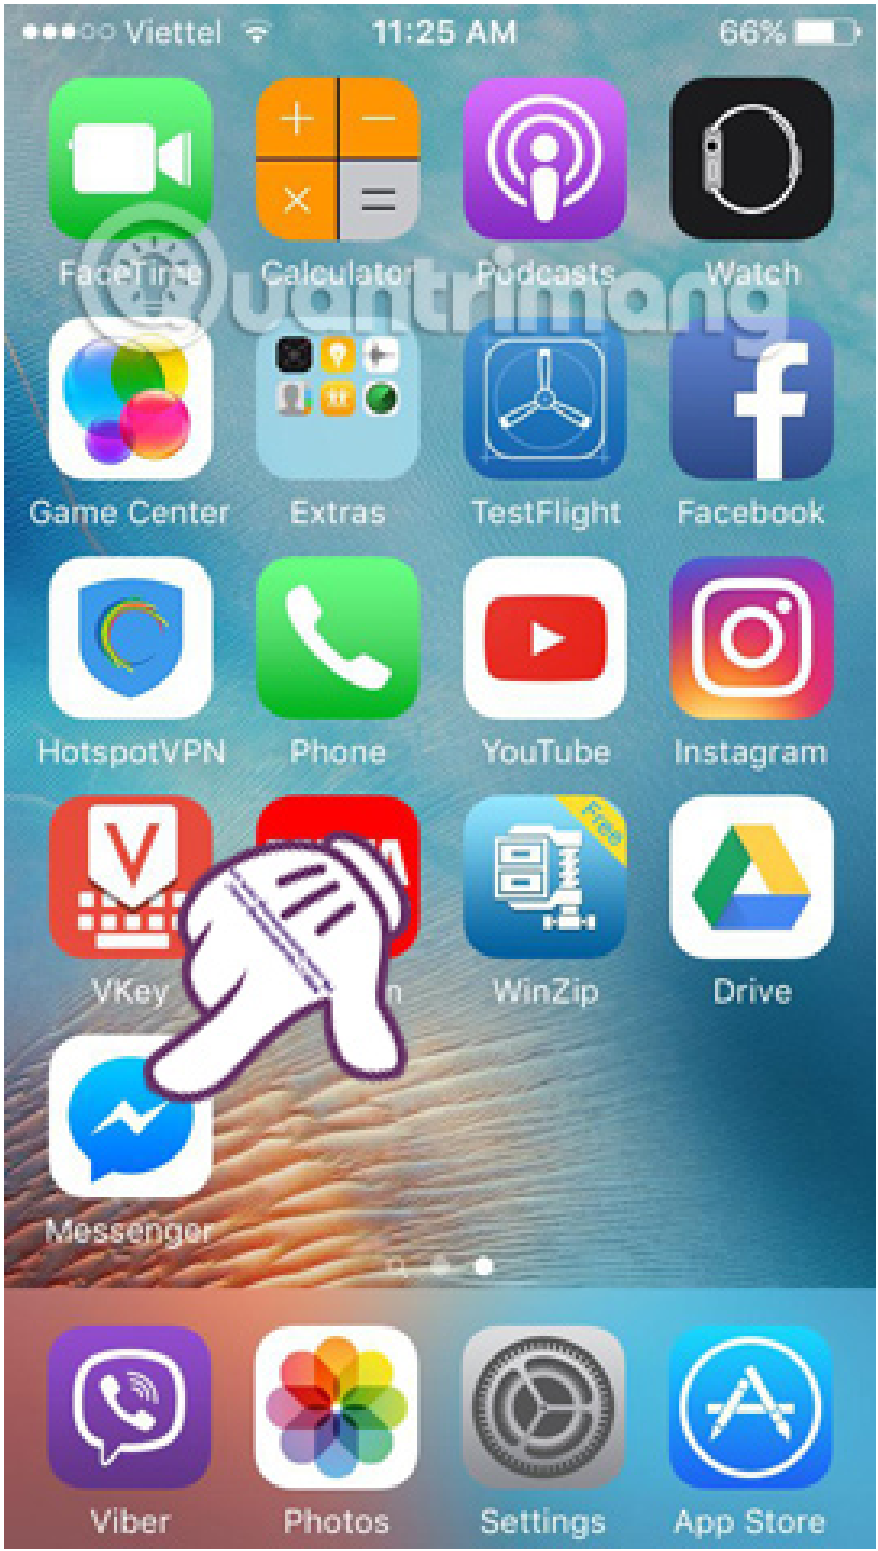

In this article, Network Administrator will show you how to hide / disable nick Facebook Messenger on your phone and on Facebook Web.

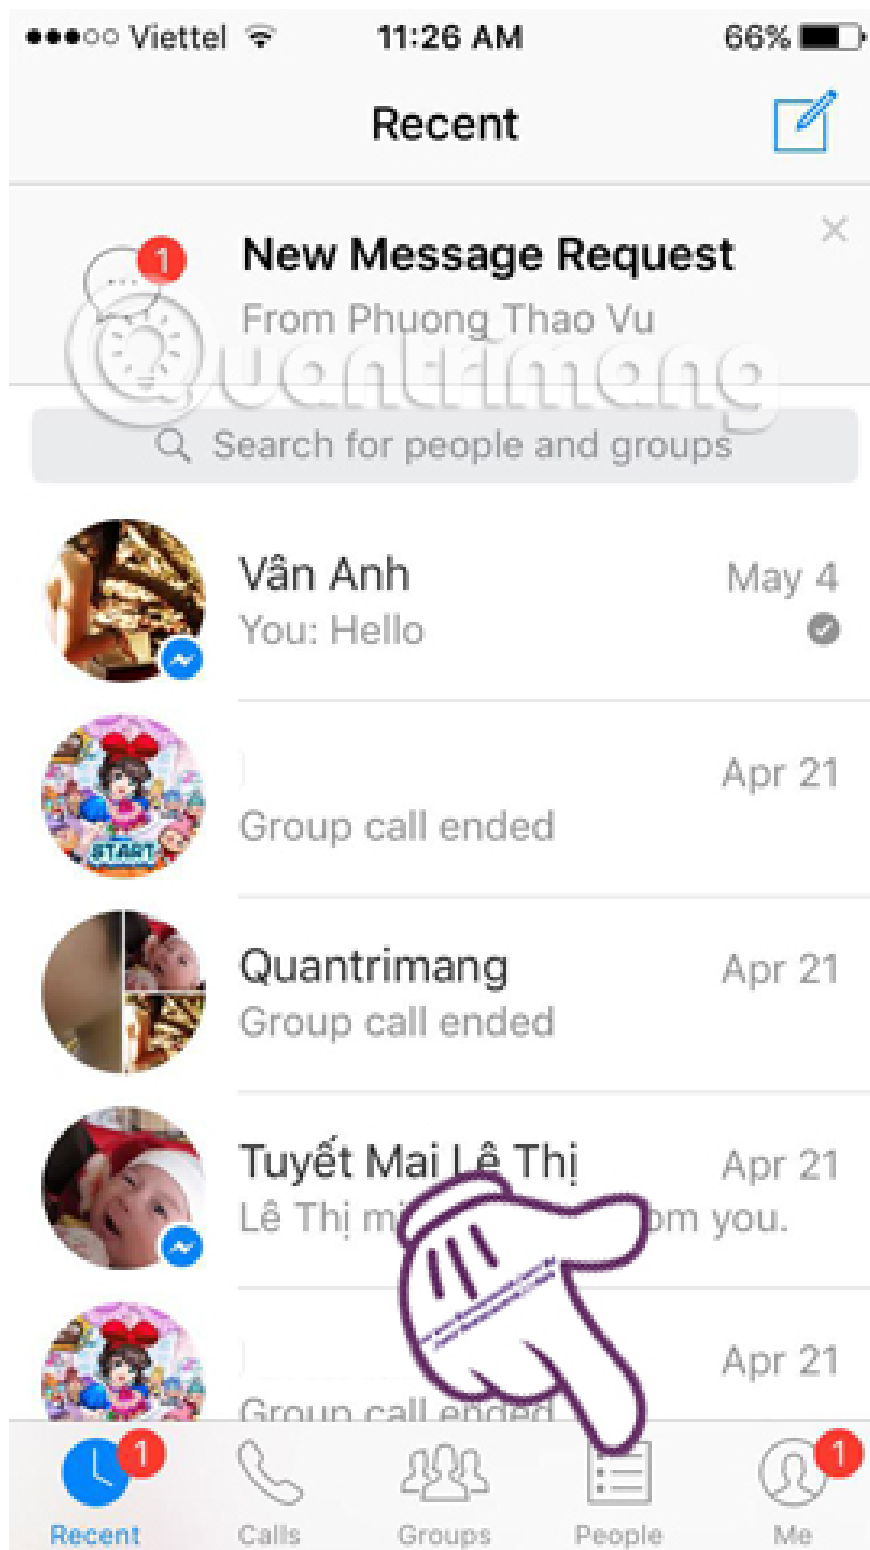

1. Turn off / hide the Facebook Messenger nick on the phone:

1. Download the Facebook app for Android
2. Download the Facebook app for iOS

Step 1:

First, access the Facebook Messenger application on your iOS or Android device. At the main interface of the application, we click on the People icon .

Step 2:

At the new window, you will click Active . Here, we will see the Online account icon when the status bar is green. That means you are online and others can see you.
