When you enter a chat character on Skype, the opponent will receive a notification that you are typing a chat character ... is typing in the chat frame. Sometimes we want to turn off this notification on Skype.

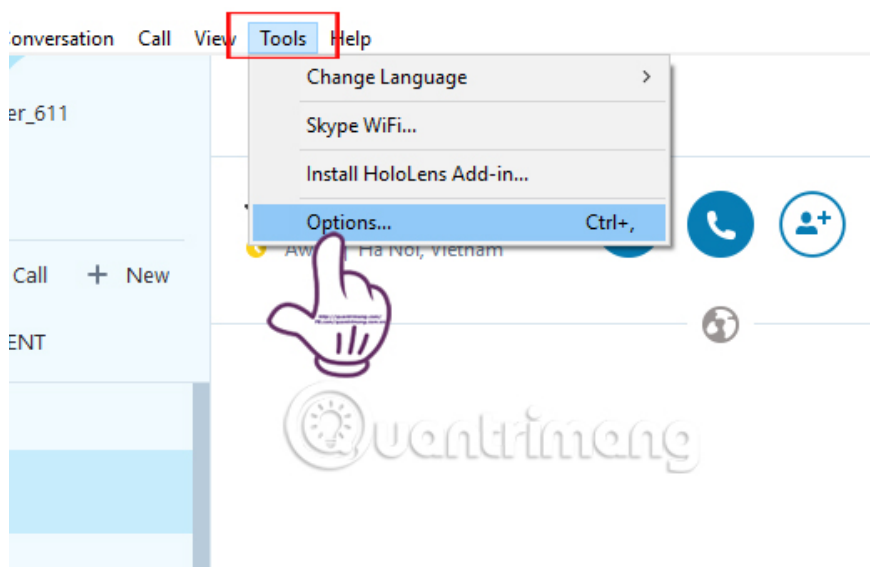

On some chat apps there will be notifications of enemy activities. For example, on Facebook, when you have received and read the message, the friend will receive a message Watched the message. Or on Skype there will be a notification . is typing typing a chat character. Sometimes these messages also cause you some troubles and we want to turn them off.

With Facebook when you want to turn off notifications Watched, you just need to install Facebook Unseen utility, in the article How to disable the "Seen" text message on Facebook. So what if I want to turn off the notification that I am entering a chat character on Skype?

1. Download the Skype software for free

Step 1:

First, you log in to your personal Skype account. At the main interface, click on the Tools section and select Options .

Step 2:

In the Options interface in the left menu list, click IM & SMS and then select IM Settings . You look at the interface on the right and then click on Show advanced options .

Step 3:

Then, in the new interface, scroll down and uncheck the Show when I am typing option and click Save at the bottom to save the new settings.

When we remove the Show when I am typing option, the message that is being entered in the message will not appear in the chat box on Skype. And so the opponent will not know if you are answering the message or not. Is that a pretty simple trick ?!
