

How to turn off the suggestion of writing a message on Zalo

Sicker according to suggested messages on Zalo sometimes cause trouble for users. So how to turn off the sticker call when writing the message?

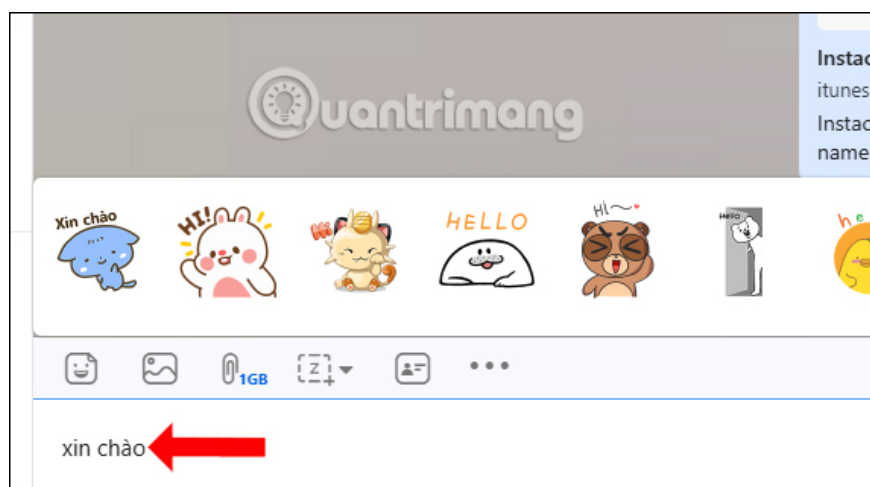

With chat applications like Messenger, Zalo, the sticker is always chosen by many people, when the number of sticker themes is constantly changing. And when chatting on Zalo by default it will turn on the feature to show suggested stickers, based on the message that the user is typing. These stickers will display in the chat frame.

However, displaying the suggested sticker right after entering the message will confuse the screen, obscuring the message editor frame. If so, we can turn off the sticker suggestion when writing on the computer version and Zalo version for the phone.
