

How to turn on and off the auto play feature on Zalo

Zalo allows users to set a specific mode for each case such as when to play, when not, or can turn off Auto Play video completely.

Videos on Zalo are now very popular when you can play videos directly on Zalo or upload videos on the timeline. By default, Zalo will automatically play when the user navigates to the location where the video is posted, helping you watch the video immediately without pressing the Play button. This feature is similar to the auto-run video feature on Facebook, not all users like it. Because, not every video they want to watch or don't want to spend a lot of bandwidth is using 3G / 4G.

To meet the different needs of each person, Zalo allows users to set a specific mode for each case, such as when to play, when not to play, or to turn off AutoPlay video completely. The customization is very simple, follow the following article to know how to implement the details.
