

How to Unlock LG Phone

Today's TipsMake will show you how to unlock LG phones. If you forget your screen lock code, you will need to perform a factory reset. This process will erase all data on your phone if you haven't backed it up yet. If you're traveling or want to change service providers, you'll need to unlock your SIM before you can use your phone with another carrier. Carriers can usually unlock the SIM without charge, but the user's account and phone must meet the requirements. You can also unlock your phone's SIM for a fee through a third-party service or website.

Proceed to restore factory settings

Power off the phone. Press and hold the power button on the right side of the phone to open the menu. Then, select 'power off' then click OK.

Press and hold the power button and volume down button. When the phone is turned off, hold down the power button and volume down button at the same time until the LG logo appears. The volume down button is on the left side of the phone.

Release the buttons when the LG logo appears. When the LG logo appears, you can release the buttons.

Press and hold the power button again. As soon as the LG logo appears and you release the buttons, immediately press the power button again until the Factory Reset screen appears.

Release your hand from the power button. When the Factory Reset screen appears, you can release the power button.

Press the power button to continue. Press the power button again to continue the factory reset process. Press the volume up or down button to cancel.

The factory reset process allows users to access the phone again, but also erases all data on it. All photos, movies, music, apps, data, browser tabs, app data, videos, contacts and anything else you haven't backed up will be deleted. Therefore, you should periodically back up data on your phone.

Press the power button again to confirm that you want to restore factory settings. Press the volume up or down button to cancel the process.
