

How to update the latest Windows 10 21H1 for laptops and PCs

Currently, Windows 10 is still the version favored by Microsoft with many new updates or additional bug fixes, bringing a number of new features and improvements to users. If you are using Windows 10, don't miss TipsMake's instructions on how to update the latest Windows 10 21H1 for laptops and PCs below.

The Windows 10 21H1 update , also known as Windows 10 May 2021, is the latest version of the operating system, likely to be released in the coming weeks. Version 21H1 is considered a minor update in the form of a support package rather than a major feature update because it only brings a few minor additions. Although Microsoft has not officially announced the Windows 10 21H1 release time frame, currently users can install this update simply by joining the Windows Insider Program and this is all you need. do.

Table of Contents:

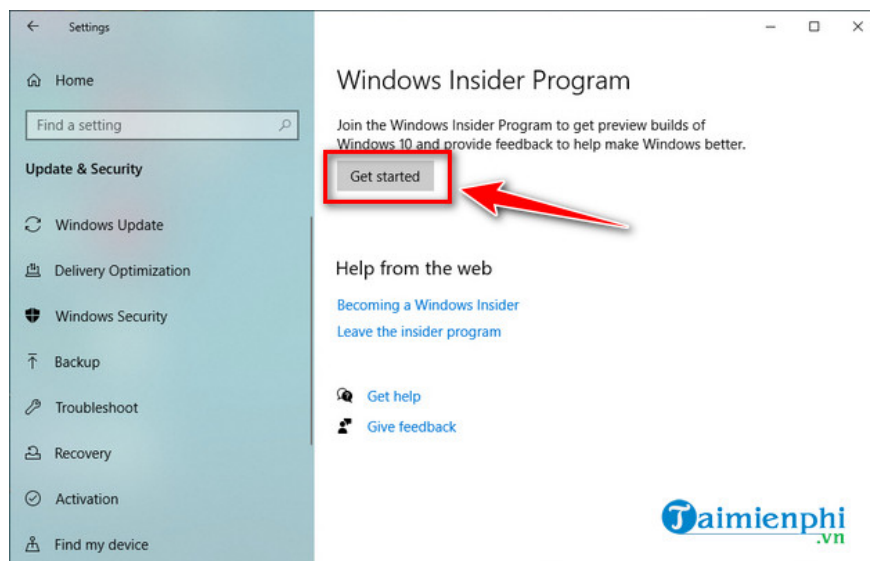

- 1. Register for the Windows Insider Program.
- 2. How to update Windows 10 21H1.

I - Register for the Windows Insider Program

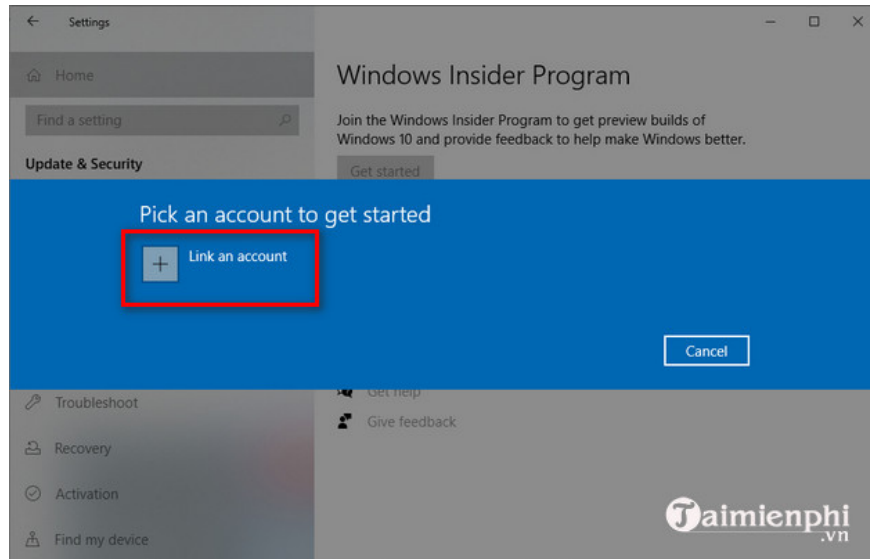

To register for the Windows Insider Program and update Windows 10 21H1, do the following:

Step 1: Go to Settings -> Update & Security -> Windows Insider Program.

Step 2: Click the Get started button . You will see an option to link accounts.

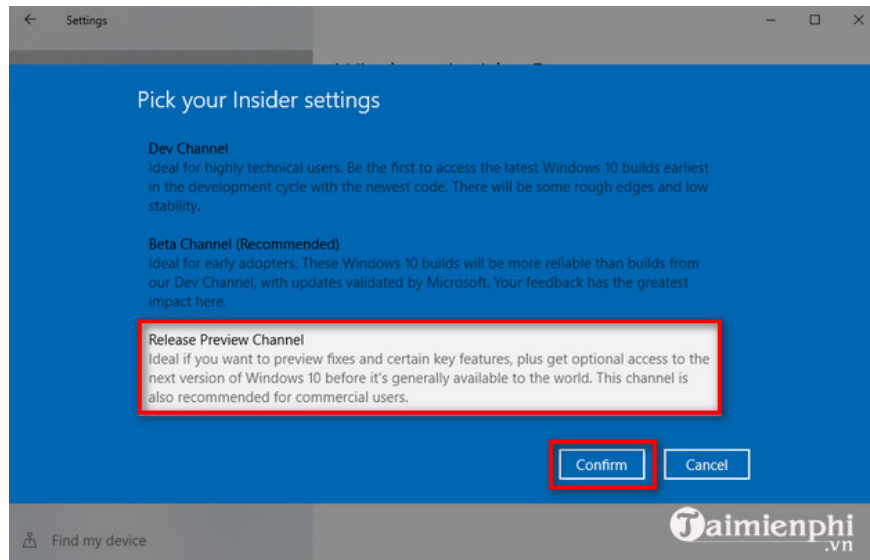

Step 3: Select Link an account.

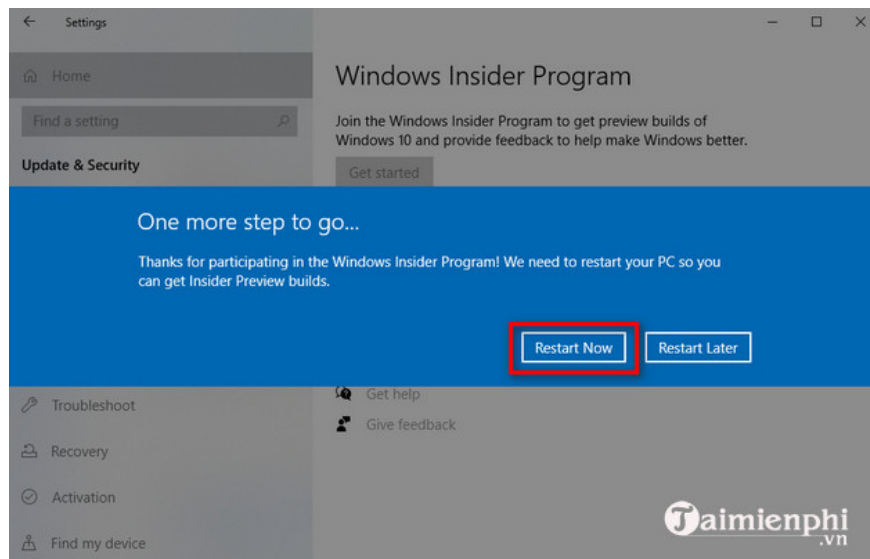

Step 4: Sign in with your Microsoft account and select Release Preview Channel . Click the Confirm button to confirm.

Step 5: Click the Confirm button again to agree to the terms.

Step 6: Select Restart Now to restart the computer.

II - How to update Windows 10 21H1

Once you have successfully registered for the Windows Insider Program, continue to follow the instructions presented below to Update Windows 10 21H1.

Step 1: Go to Setting > Update & Security.

Step 2: Next, select Windows Update -> Check for updates.

Step 3: Under Feature update to Windows 10, version 21H1 , click the Download and Install button.

Step 4: After finishing downloading and installing the update, click the Restart button to restart the computer.

So, you have successfully installed the latest Windows 10 21H1 update. You can also leave the program from the Windows Insider Program settings page to prevent upgrading to the next version by switching the Turning this on will opt of fighting when the next major release of windows 10 is installed switch to Right in the Stop getting preview builds section.

In addition, Windows 11 has also officially launched to users. If you want to upgrade the operating system to Windows 11, you need to refer to the required configuration before installing to avoid incompatibility errors.

You finished reading the article "How to update the latest Windows 10 21H1 for laptops and PCs" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.