

How to use ChatGPT Plus for free

Summary of ways to use ChatGPT Plus for free so you can test this program before deciding whether to buy the paid version or not.

How is ChatGPT Plus different from ChatGPT?

ChatGPT Plus is a more upgraded version of ChatGPT and will charge users a fee. The product is said to mark the beginning of ChatGPT's commercialization process. The application development company, Open AI, said it will provide different and more diverse service packages in the near future.

The introduction of ChatGPT Plus also helps relieve pressure on the free version when the popularity of this application can cause it to become overloaded. ChatGPT Plus is also said to have higher accuracy and efficiency, higher result return speed, and more stable connection.

The version also provides feature previews, so that users can be exposed to the latest improvements from the publisher as quickly as possible.

The texts created from the Plus version are also more complex, emotional and realistic.

With advanced error correction capabilities, ChatGPT Plus version also helps you detect errors in text better and avoid errors before using the text.

Who is suitable to use ChatGPT Plus?

ChatGPT Plus is suitable for people who want to use smart AI tools every day to support their work, individuals and businesses whose work needs to use AI for a large part of the day.

The official ChatGPT Plus account price offered by OpenAI is 20 USD/month (equivalent to about 470,000 VND/month). This is also the same cost as the price announced in the US.

How to use ChatGPT Plus for free

Users can experience ChatGPT Plus features for free through Microsoft's Copilot AI assistant application. Recently, the app made a notable improvement to its AI assistant Copilot by integrating the latest version of the GPT-4-Turbo language model from OpenAI.

A notable point of GPT-4-Turbo is the ability to update knowledge to the latest date, as of April 2023, and has a much larger context store, equivalent to 300 pages of text.

Copilot now integrates GPT-4-Turbo across multiple Microsoft products and services, including Windows 11, Microsoft 365, and standalone apps for iOS and Android. Users can enable GPT-4-Turbo in the Copilot interface by clicking "Use GPT-4".
