

How to use Evernote widget on Google Chrome

Evernote utility on Google Chrome helps you create data note files, and can be opened in any computer via Google account.

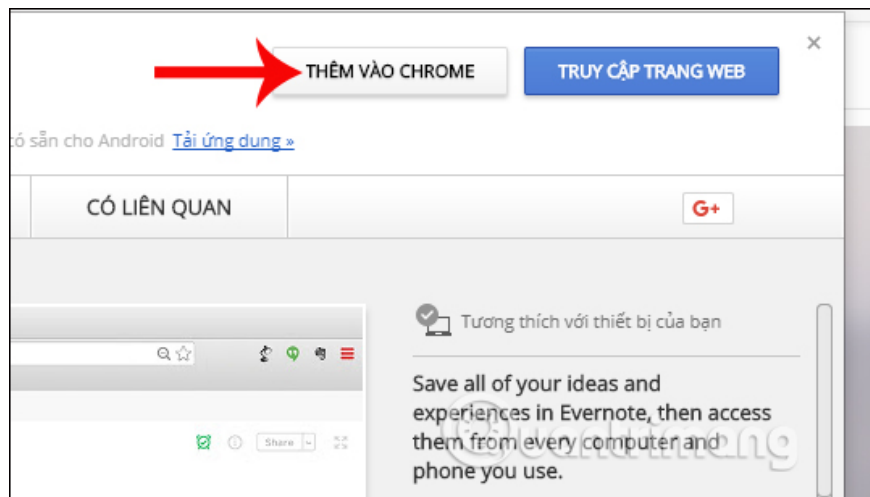

To be able to conveniently monitor your work, the software notes on your computer will help you a lot. However, the problem here is that the note-taking software only works offline and works on one computer only. Therefore, you cannot access the notes on this computer if there is a need for use. In this case, the Evernote Web utility for Chrome browser will help us to access the note data on any computer, via Google account.

Step 1:

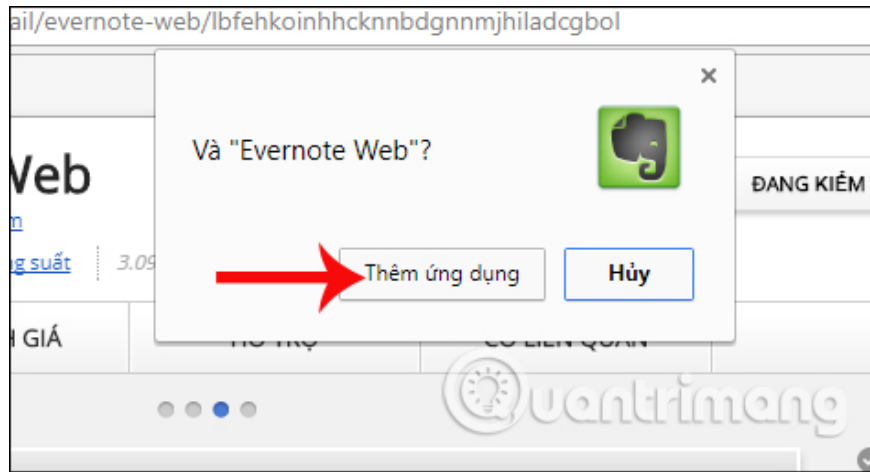

You access the link below to get to the Evernote Web installation interface.

1. <https://chrome.google.com/webstore/detail/evernote-web/lbfehkoinhhcknbdgnnmjhiladcgbol>

At this interface click the Add to Chrome button.

Then we click on Add application to install Evernote Web in the browser.

Step 2:

Soon you will be redirected to the management page of the installation utility on Chrome browser, click on the Evernote Web gadget.

Step 3:

To use the Evernote Web gadget, users need to create a personal account. However, you should log in with your Google account. Click Log in with Google.
