

How to Use the Huawei Broadband Stick to Send and Receive Text Messages

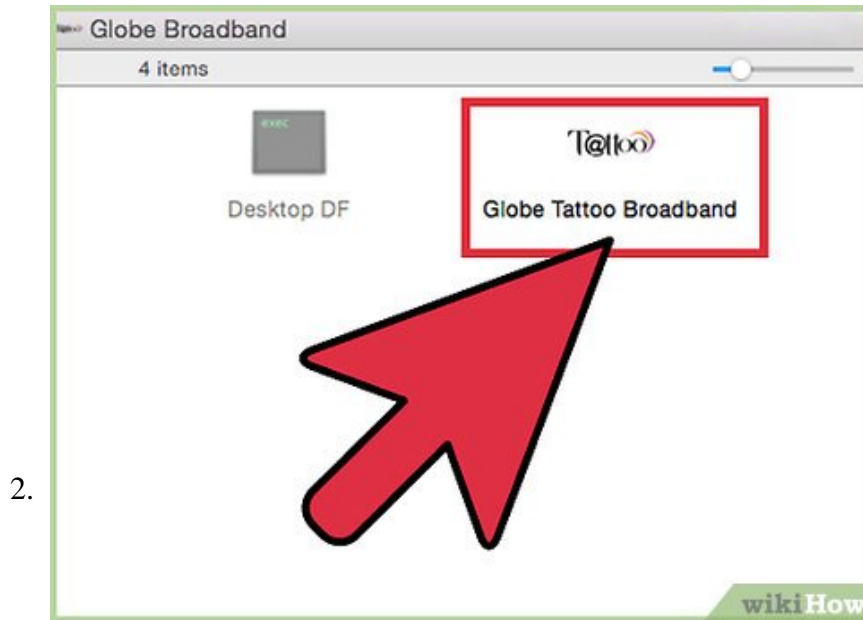

A Huawei broadband stick is normally used to connect to Wi-Fi networks such as GSM, WCDMA, and the like. It's basically a USB stick that you plug into your computer's USB port for it to connect to the Internet. You should have a Wi-Fi...

Part 1 of 3:

Connecting the Broadband Device to Your Computer

Plug the broadband stick into a USB port. You'll need to locate a USB port on your computer.

Wait for the device to light up. The device will start looking for its service provider, and then the available network connections in the area.

Launch the application. Look for the application in your programs under the Start menu of your Windows desktop. Click on it to launch.

Part 2 of 3:

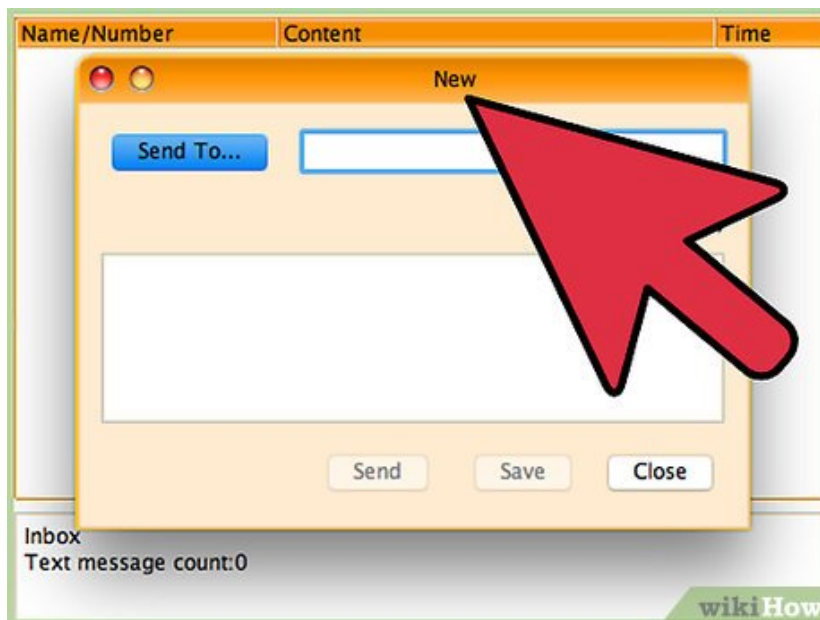

Sending Text Messages

1.

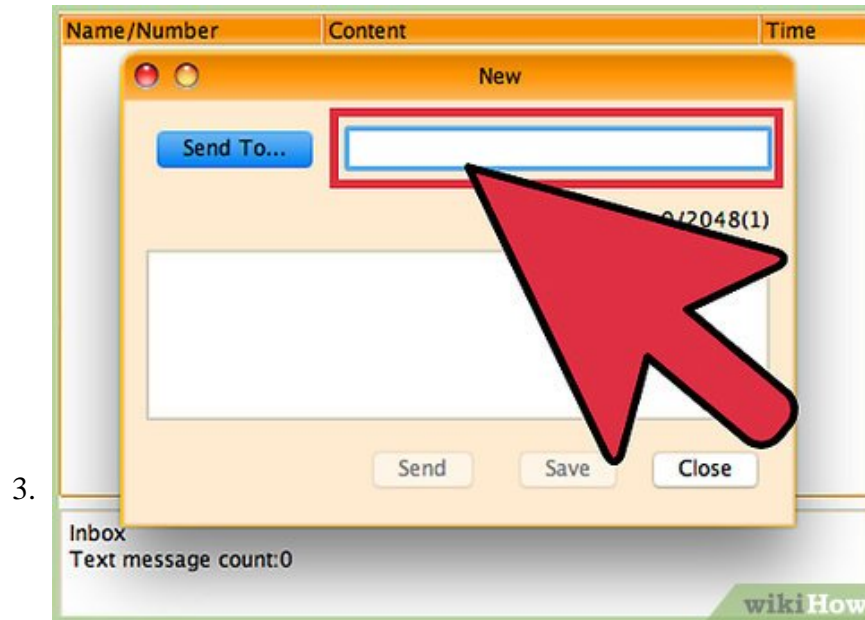

Go to "Text." Click "Text" from the menu, or click on "Operation" from the header menu and select "Text Message."

2.

Start a new message. Just like on your mobile phone, you can send text messages from this application. Click on "New," or press Ctrl + N on your keyboard, and a new message window will appear.

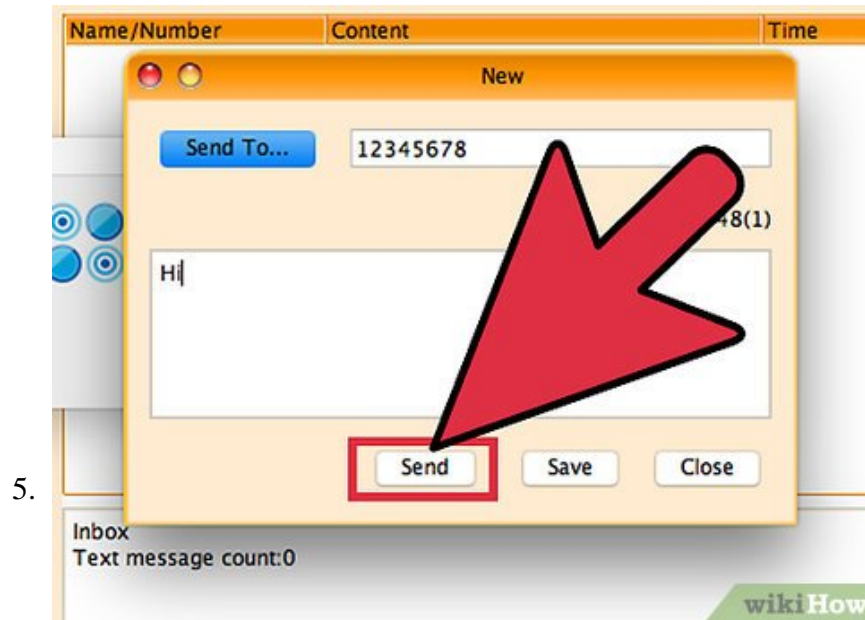

Type in the mobile number. Type in the number of the person you want to send the message to in the text box next to "Send To."

1. If you have an address book maintained with your SIM card, you can click on "Send To" to open the address book.
2. You can put in more than one number.

Type your message. In the big box below, type in your message.

Send your message. Once you're done writing the message, click on "Send." 'Sending text message' will appear.

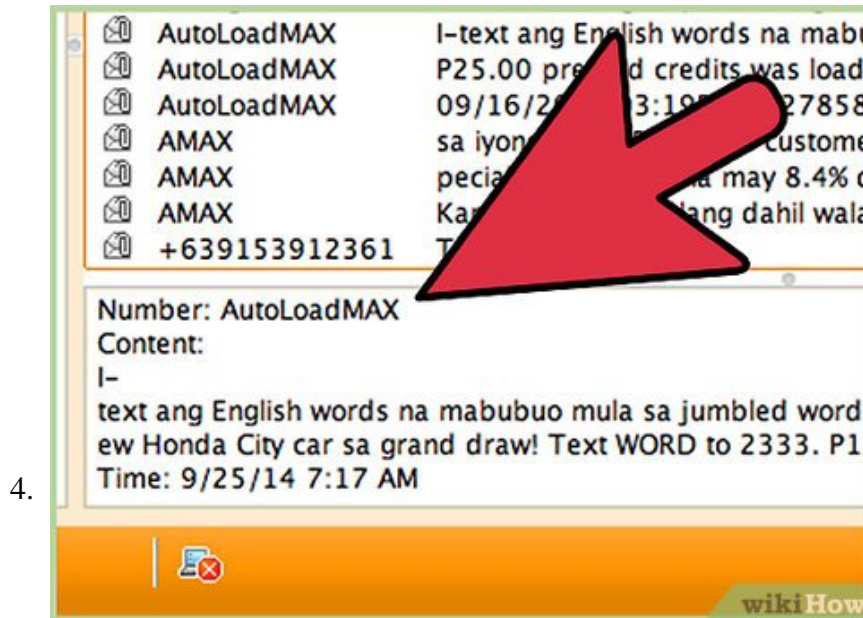

1. A confirmation message will be shown once the message has been sent.

Part 3 of 3:

Receiving Text Messages

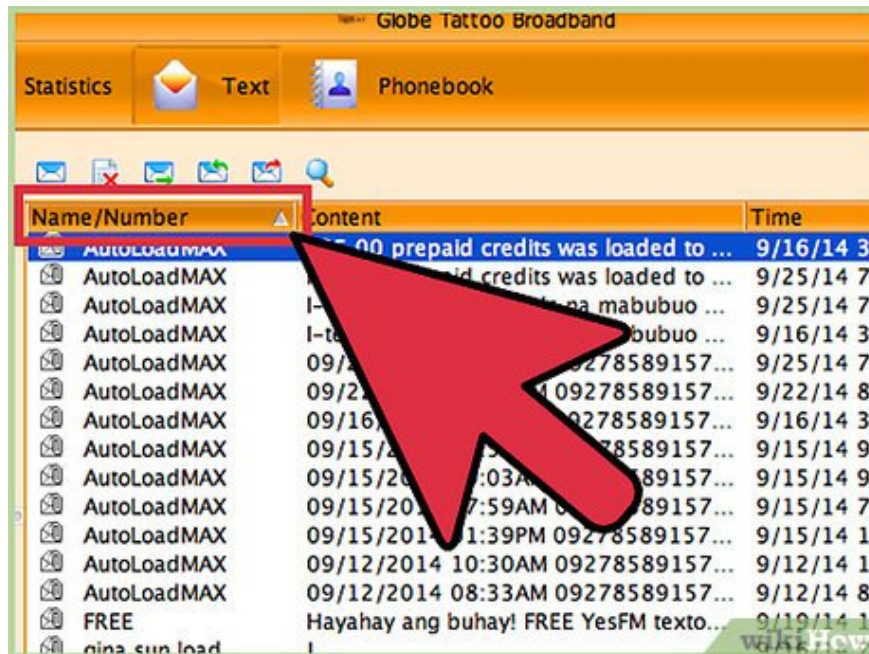

Go to "Text." Click "Text" from the menu, or click on "Operation" from the header menu and select "Text Message."

Read a text message. Click on any of the messages to display the full message. It will appear on the bottom window.

- Sort text messages. The text messages can be sorted by Name/Number, Content, and Time. Click on the respective headers to sort the whole list.
