Convenience and comfort in use are also focused and enhanced by HP engineers on this version. The refreshed keyboard with chicklet-style design helps increase accuracy in fast key operations. Mouse-over tabs have also been increased by 20% in size, which makes it comfortable for multi-touch operations on Windows 8 / 8.1. Left and right mouse buttons are detached to limit misplaced keys and keys. Sturdy steel screen joint structure is maintained by HP to ensure durability and solid screen support. Thermal exit slot and wiring plug ports (LAN, VGA, hdmi) are placed to the left edge, making it not entangled and inconvenient to use external mouse. The right optical drive makes it easy and quick to change the disc.

Stylish chicklet keyboard.

Extensive mouse table with 2 left and right keys is separate.

High-strength, durable metal screen joints.

The thermal slot and wire connections are set to the left edge.

Due to popular demand, it is also important to connect computers to the outside world. The device is equipped with 1 USB 3.0 port and 2 2.0 ports for simultaneous connection with 3 devices such as external storage, mouse and 3G USB. The slim optical drive (read / write DVD) is also equipped on the device, the DVD will be more convenient than USB for occasions when data exchange is required without recipients' return. Wifi, LAN, VGA and hdmi provide flexibility in networking and presentation anytime, anywhere.

The amera HP Truevision HD High Definition Webcam HD was first equipped on HP's popular line of machines. This technology makes images on video conversations clearer and more beautiful. Supported software is also provided free of charge by HP (requires installation) such as: YouCam for fancy real-time camera techniques. HP Connected Photo backs up photos from smartphones to computers and stores HP's Snapfish cloud.

It can be said that the HP 14 product is a typical product for HP's design quality while ensuring economic and cost factors.
