If you own an HTC phone, today is probably a fun day for you because HTC Corporation recently released a new update for HTC BlinkFeed app that adds some handy features for Android users. .

If you don't know, BlinkFeed is the integrated newsfeed home screen on HTC One devices, helping users get all social feeds, appointment events, news, music and content. sorted and updated continuously in one place. With BlinkFeed™, you don't need to open multiple applications. If you don't have a data plan, the Offline Reader feature lets you update feeds over WiFi, then save them to read later.

Here are some changes in the update:

1. Track events, categories or subcategory with a single click
2. The application will recommend to users events, topics and genres based on personal interests
3. Touch a topic title to see all titles from that category
4. Bug fixes and performance improvements
