

I doubt these unique technology applications will appear in the world and of course can only be Japan

Here is a list of 16 applications of unique and modern technology used in daily life in Japan that many people are surprised and admired. There are even some applications that many people think they only appear in sci-fi movies.

Here is a list of 16 applications of unique and modern technology used in daily life in Japan that many people are surprised and admired. There are even some applications that many people think they only appear in sci-fi films about the future of human life.

1. Refrigerators are able to notify owners of drinks and food available. Even this refrigerator can recognize the voice and move to the owner.

2. Sticks of selfie are common items all over the world but a selfie stick that is both capable of taking pictures and a handheld mic is probably only available in Japan. Japanese people like to sing and record videos at the same time so this 2-in-1 device was born.

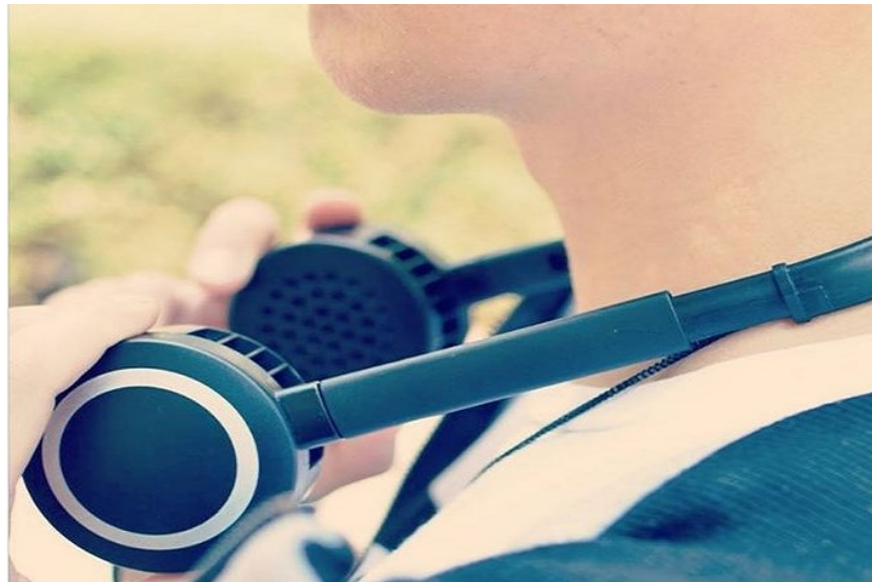

3. This special glasses will inform users about all documents, reminders of scheduled tasks so they don't have to check their smartphones constantly.

4. With an umbrella that can be placed on the head like this hat, your hands can do other things, carry things or simply 'rest'.

5. The portable fan is as small as a headset but has great cooling effect so that users can carry it anywhere and feel better when faced with hot weather.

6. Smart mirrors can analyze the health of users of Panasonic.

7. Transparent TVs are used by many restaurants in Japan. While the contrast on the device is limited, its unique look attracts many customers.

8. Artificial intelligence analyzes the driver's facial expression to give a warning sound that wakes up when the driver starts to sleep.

9. A glove was invented to replace a computer mouse.

10. Hands-free cushion with surface made of special silicone that can support books, tablets allow users to freely use books or devices according to their needs.

11. A portable desktop washing machine capable of cleaning small furniture for 2 minutes. To use it, simply plug this special washing machine into a computer or any device with a USB port, pour water and turn on the switch.

12. This special device will light up to alert the owner whenever someone approaches the door (about 4m).

13. This mobile alarm system will emit an alarm sound to the user's phone when electronic devices such as laptops that it is mounted on move.

14. The dog that detects this smell can quickly and accurately evaluate all odors. The dog will switch to fake death mode if it detects the smell and wag its tail if it detects the fragrance.

15. When washing your hands in a sink, water after use will flow into the water tank and be used for toilet. This water saving toilet combo of Japan was born in 1956.

16. Japanese avocado extractor.

See more:

1. 18 "extremely creative" inventions are available only in Japan
2. How the smartphone changes the world, these 2 photos of Tiger Woods will give you the answer
3. Top 19 biggest deals of "technology village" in 2017

You finished reading the article "I doubt these unique technology applications will appear in the world and of course can only be Japan" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.