

Impressive dual screen monitors Acer Nitro VG271UP and ED245QA 'sweep' mid-range segment

Acer is not only famous for its ultra-durable, beautiful and powerful laptops. Recently the company also scored with users through a series of monitors for office and gamers extremely impressive.

Acer Nitro VG271UP and ED245QA are two of the typical screen models that are attracting a lot of users' attention on the current market. Find out what the duo has hot!

Acer Nitro VG271UP

Nitro VG271UP is a monitor model designed for gamers with many advanced display technologies, maximum support for gaming, and suitable for both design needs.

The appearance of this screen model is characterized by gamers with the base designed quite pitifully in the form of the letter "V". The foot of this foot is stylized with two tones of blue and black to help the feeling of looking in is not monotonous like many traditional designs. Moreover, this design will be very easy for the color scheme with the Gear that users use along with the screen.

The back is also designed with many "V" details to bring high recognition for this Nitro VG271UP gaming monitor line. Acer screen versatile design can be hung on the wall for tight spaces, this is one of the handy features that many people need today.

The front of the screen exudes a very subtle line thanks to the extremely thin bezels. This design brings gaming experience, watching movies or many other tasks will be extremely interesting. Not to mention, the thin screen border combined with the light around the gear that users set up will create a real-life experience that anyone can look at.

VG271UP Nitro Screen has a 27 inch size, 2K resolution using IPS panel with the ability to reproduce 1.07 billion colors, supports 95% of DCI-P3 color gamut to bring high accuracy, experience sharp content. and honesty is suitable for both designers.

Nitro VG271UP also supports Vesa Display HDR 400 display technology for brightness up to 400 nits, double that of conventional displays.

This 2K monitor has a 144Hz refresh rate, 1ms response time for a smooth, smooth gaming experience that helps to quickly see opponents as well as better tactical moves. Acer monitors also support Freesync technology, which is compatible with G-Sync, eliminating screen tearing and stuttering.

In addition, to focus more on gaming, Nitro VG271UP screen is also integrated 3 separate Gameview display modes including: Action, racing, sports. Black Boost technology with 11 levels of brightness adjustment helps increase brightness in dark areas in the game, gamers can see more details, knock out opponents easier. Vision protection technology with Bluelightshield, Flickerless, Comfy View, Low dimming.

Nitro VG271UP screen is equipped with 2 4W speakers for vivid sound, stylized design with a slot behind the back for better heat dissipation.

Acer ED245QA

Acer ED245QA monitor possesses a modern, elegant design with white tones, easy to coordinate with most workspaces like home or office. Not as pitiful as the Nitro VG271UP gaming monitor, but ED245QA also provides the same level of certainty for users with the wide tablet base that holds the device up.

The ED245QA display is also designed with an ultra-thin bezel to bring out-of-the-eye experiences. The size of the ED245QA monitor is 23.6" on an IPS panel, FHD resolution, 99% standard sRGB color system, bringing vivid and sharp images at all angles (178 degrees). ED245QA screen for time 4ms response and 75Hz refresh rate for fast graphics processing during games.

This mid-range model is also equipped with advanced technologies such as Bluelight Shield technology to filter up to 80% of blue light and anti-flash technology to protect eyes when using computers for long term. Low dimming and ComfyView technology protect the eyes in dark environments and prevent glare in bright environments.

When purchasing VG271UP and ED245QA monitors, customers will receive Acer's 3S1 Warranty: This warranty is a fast warranty within 3 days including Saturday and Sunday, after 3 days change new products.

From April 15 to April 30 or until the end of the gift, when buying gaming monitors with Acer brand name, customers will be given a top-notch Gelea headset worth 3 million.

Applicable model: ED242QR 75Hz, ED245QA, HA270B, VG240Y, VG270, VG271UP.

You finished reading the article "Impressive dual screen monitors Acer Nitro VG271UP and ED245QA 'sweep' mid-range segment" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.