

In 2020, Vietnam will popularize 500,000 VND smartphones to 100% of the population

In the morning of March 2 in Hanoi, the Ministry of Information and Communications said that, together with the policy of turning off the 2G signal, the ministry will work with all departments to develop a program to produce Vietnamese smartphones that cost only 500,000 VND to reach 100. % of people, creating conditions for implementing e-government.

In the morning of March 2 in Hanoi, the Ministry of Information and Communications said that, together with the policy of turning off the 2G signal, the ministry will work with all departments to develop a program to produce Vietnamese smartphones that cost only 500,000 VND to reach 100. % of people, creating conditions for implementing e-government.

This is a universal smartphone program to 100% people in Vietnam. The government will produce Vietnamese smartphones costing only about $ 45-50. In particular, the network operator will compensate 10USD for each product. Developers of pre-installed applications on the device will also support an additional 1 USD / application, each machine will have about 10 basic applications, so the price will be reduced by about 10 USD.

The manufacturer will also subsidize when it reaches the user, the price of the smartphone is only in the range of 20 USD - less than 500,000 VND.

2020 promises to be a booming year for the information and communication industry. This is the first year that the task of building an e-government is returned to the Ministry of Information and Communications, which is also the first year Vietnam started a mobile-based digital government program, providing services on mobile platforms.

In 2020, the data sharing platform and network security center (SoC) will appear in 100% of provinces and ministries across the country, 100% deploy 4 layers to protect information systems. . This year, Vietnam will own telecommunications infrastructure equipment, especially 5G equipment.

You finished reading the article "In 2020, Vietnam will popularize 500,000 VND smartphones to 100% of the population" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
