

Instruction for multi-nick Skype chat

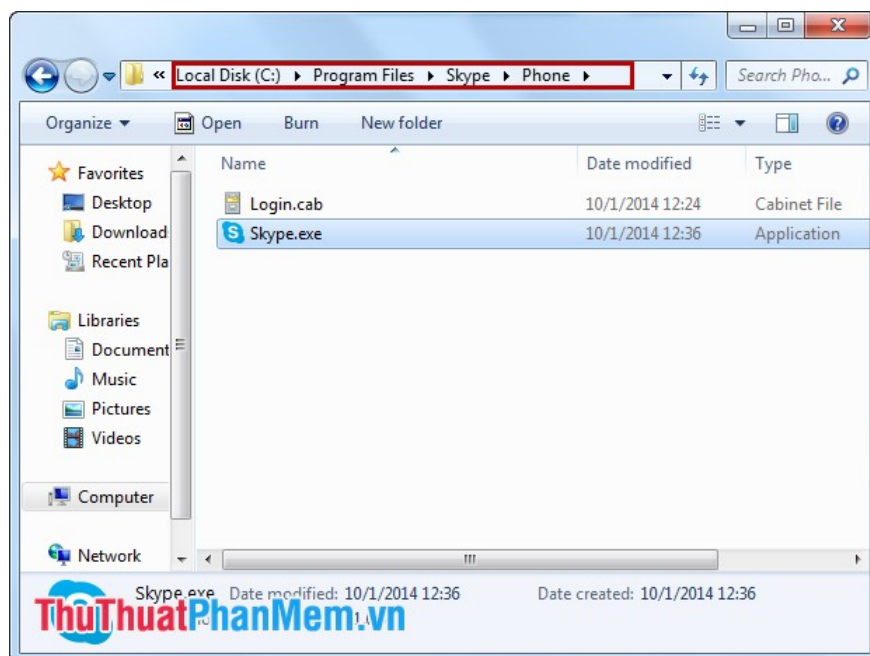

Guide multi-nick chat Skype - Skype is a very popular chat software because of its features. Many people use Skype to communicate at work or with friends and relatives, so using multiple Skype accounts on one computer

Skype is a popular chat software because of its features. Many people use Skype to communicate at work or with friends and relatives, so using multiple Skype accounts on one computer is essential, to avoid confusion between work and life.

So how can you chat at the same time with two or more different Skype accounts on the same computer? You can follow and follow the steps below.

Step 1: Open the folder containing the Skype.exe file and copy the path.

The picture above is: C: Program FilesSkypePhoneSkype.exe .

Step 2: Open the Run dialog box and enter the command.

Select Start , find and select Run (or Windows + R key combination) .

Enter the C: Program FilesSkypePhoneSkype.exe / secondary command in the Run dialog box and select OK (or Enter) .

* Above is Windows 32bit version, but with Windows 64bit version you replace C: Program FilesSkypePhoneSkype.exe / secondary with C: Program Files (x86) SkypePhoneSkype.exe / secondary and select OK . Notice before / secondary is a space.

Step 3: Add a new Skype window appears, you can login more accounts.

To chat more nick you follow the same steps above. From now on you can freely chat many Skype nick on a computer with many different accounts.

You finished reading the article "Instruction for multi-nick Skype chat" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.