

Instructions for connecting to the internet for Virtual PC virtual machines

If you cannot access the Internet after installing the virtual machine, the network configuration may be incorrect. To fix this, you will need to make some adjustments to the network settings in Virtual PC.

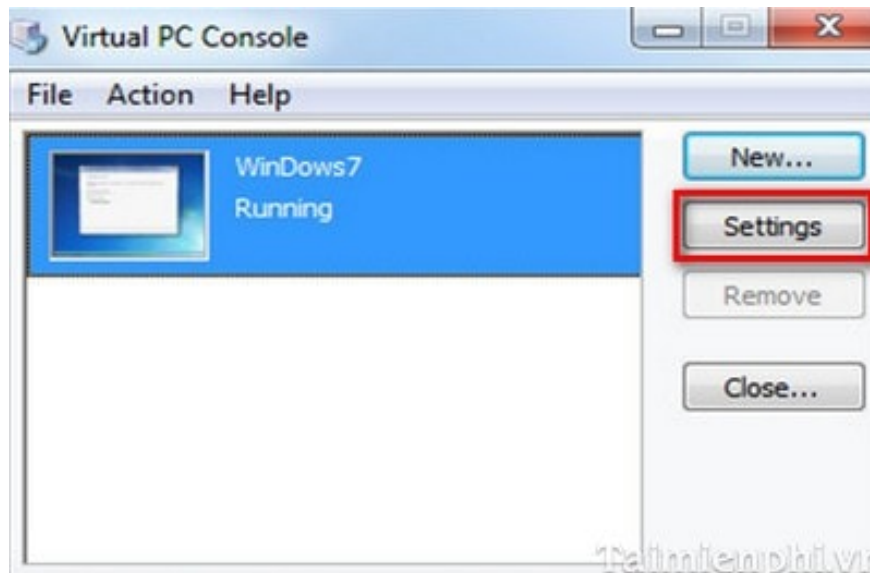

Virtual PC is a free virtual machine creation software, used by many people thanks to its compact capacity but still providing all the necessary features.

Instructions for connecting to the internet for Virtual PC virtual machines

Step 1 : First, you need to start Virtual PC .

Step 2 : At the program interface, select Settings .

Step 3 : Next, you find the Networking option

Step 4 : In the Adapter section , select Share Networking (NAT) , then click OK .

Restart the virtual machine to test the Internet connection.

Check the results, by visiting any website

Above, we have just guided you to configure Virtual PC to be able to connect to the Internet on the virtual machine. Now you can browse the Web and experience the interesting features that this software brings. Use the virtual machine in Virtual PC with full features like a real PC.

You finished reading the article "Instructions for connecting to the internet for Virtual PC virtual machines" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.