

Instructions for editing screen recording videos on Snipping Tool

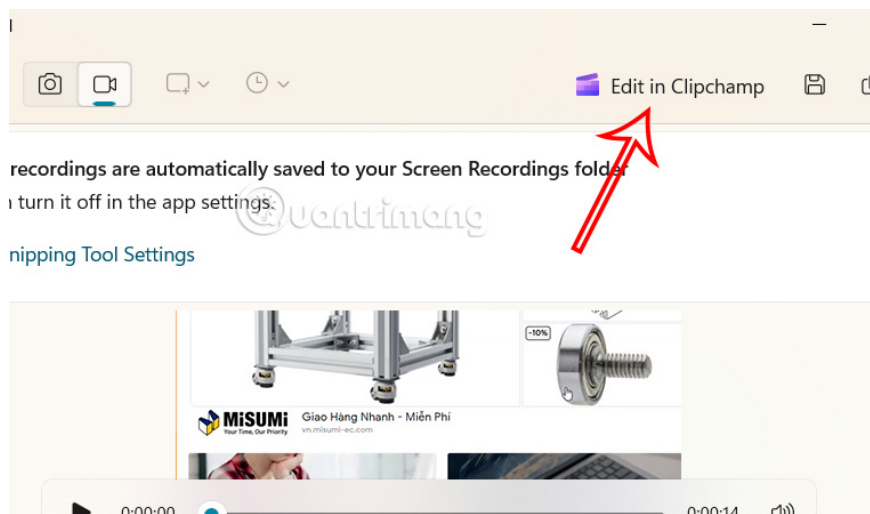

Windows 11 has integrated the Clipchamp video editor on Snipping Tool so that users can edit videos as they want, without having to use other applications.

In addition to the computer screen capture feature that you already know, Snipping Tool can now record screen videos on Snipping Tool with extremely simple operations. Windows 11 has integrated the Clipchamp video editor on Snipping Tool so that users can edit videos as they wish, without having to use other applications. Below are instructions for editing screen recording videos on Snipping Tool.

How to edit screen recording videos on Snipping Tool

Step 1:

First, you need to record a screen video using the Snipping Tool on Windows 11 as usual. Then in the screen recording video review interface above, we click Edit in Clipchamp .

Step 2:

After opening the Clipchamp application on your computer, you log in to your Microsoft account to use it.

Microsoft Clipchamp

Create and edit professional-looking videos quickly and easily with Clipchamp.

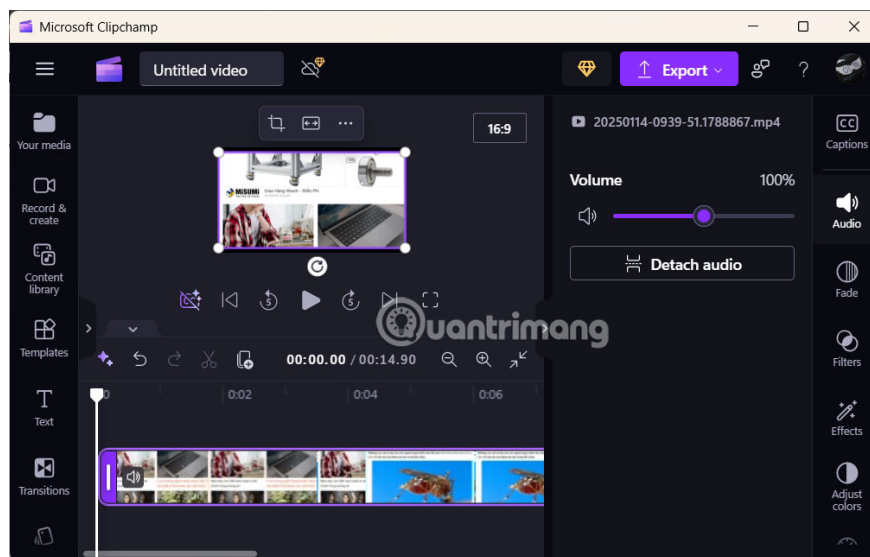

Sign in with a work, school, personal or family account

Wanting to sign in with Google or email?

Step 3:

Immediately after that, we will see the screen recording video displayed in the Clipchamp interface with tools for users to choose to edit as they like.

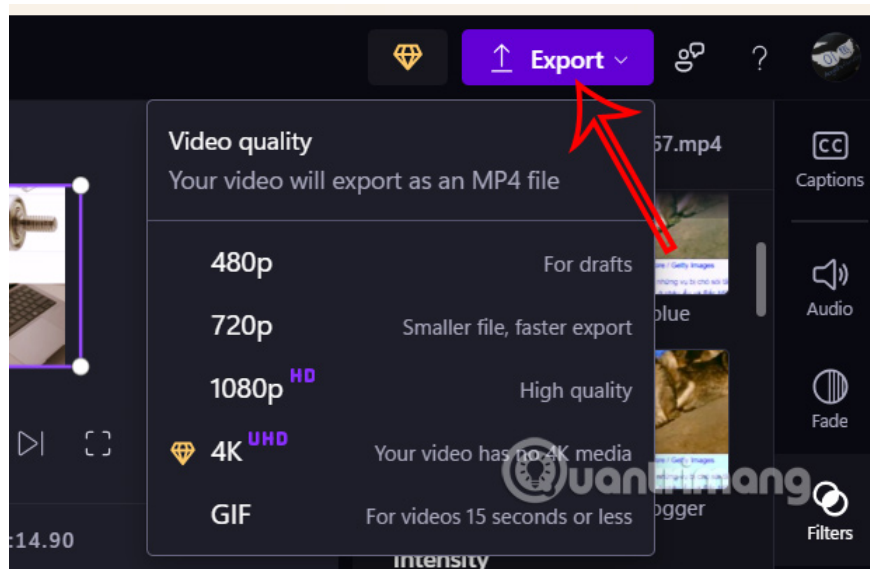

Basically, Clipchamp also has full options to change and edit videos such as adding video filters, adding effects to videos. Note, some options only apply to the paid version.

Step 4:

Finally, when you have finished editing the screen recording video on Snipping Tool, click Export and choose a free format to download.

You finished reading the article "Instructions for editing screen recording videos on Snipping Tool" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.