

Instructions for logging into a Microsoft account on your computer

To take advantage of the features of the Windows operating system and online services, it is necessary to access a Microsoft account on your computer. Here is a simple guide to help you sign in quickly.

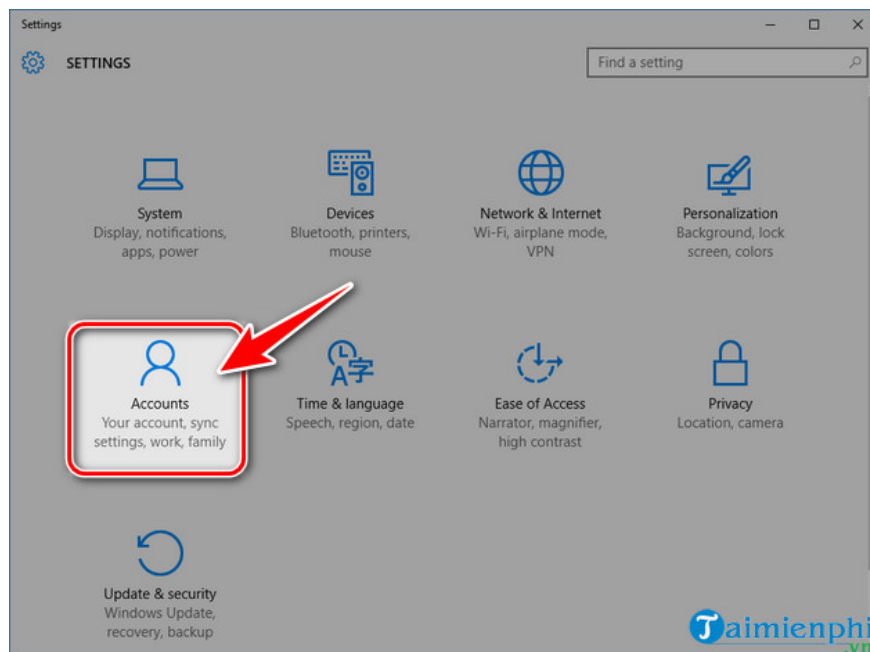

When you use a Microsoft account on your computer, you'll be able to take advantage of all the services and apps available on the Microsoft Store, like Office, Skype, OneDrive, Messenger, and more.

1. How to log in to a Microsoft account on your computer

Step 1: Click the Windows icon => Select Settings .

Step 2: In the Setting panel , select Account .

Step 3: Click Sign in with a Microsoft account instead .

Step 4: Use your Microsoft account to log in to the system. If you do not have an account, please refer to how to create one here:

2. How to sign in to your Microsoft Store account

Step 1: Click the search icon on the Taskbar , type Microsoft Store and select Store Trusted Windows Store App

Step 2: Next, select the human avatar icon => click Sign In .

Step 3: In the new panel that appears, select Microsoft Account .

Step 4: Enter your Microsoft account => click Sign In .

Above are the complete instructions for logging into a Microsoft account on your computer. Hopefully, TipsMake's sharing will help you quickly use Microsoft's utilities and Microsoft Store.

You finished reading the article "Instructions for logging into a Microsoft account on your computer" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.