

Instructions for ordering online on Taobao

In this article we will guide you to buy items on Taobao the easiest way to get the best products.

In recent years, Vietnamese people have become familiar with buying products on e-commerce channels such as Taobao. This is known as an e-commerce website belonging to the Alibaba Group's system and is one of the most popular shopping channels in China and is the best choice for stores and businesses. I want to find the source to order.

1. Purchase experience on Shopee to avoid buying fake goods
2. Experience ordering online shopping on Ebay
3. Online buying experience on Alibaba

Taobao is the famous C2C e-commerce model in China. Taobao's clothing supply is very rich in styles, designs, diverse prices and often has strong offsetting sales. Therefore, many people now choose to place orders on Taobao to source these cheap clothes for sale in their shop. However, many of us are still struggling to place orders on Taobao. Therefore, in this article we will guide you to the shopping process on Taobao.

1. First you need to register or login your account

This is probably too familiar to those who shop on e-commerce channels. You just need to visit the website: <https://world.taobao.com/> then log in or register to purchase. Registration is free and fast, if you don't understand Chinese, you just need to use Google Translate and follow it.

If you do not log in, then when it comes to the payment process, the web also requires you to log in to be able to purchase.

After logging in the account, the interface will take you to the section to fill in the information when receiving the goods.

Next you will find the source you want to buy, if you do not know Chinese, you can go to translate.google.com, then select Chinese simply and translate the keywords you need to find.

After finding the product you are looking for, you can click on the price range box to find the best product for you. After selecting the product, the following is product information: Product name, price, ship price, delivery place .

You should pay attention to the prestige of the shop as shown below. The higher the reputation of the shop, the more assured the product quality is.

After selecting the product, please go to the next step, proceed to order. The goods here are very diverse and abundant, but not 100% of the stalls are quality and not all the shippers are reputable, there are many fraudsters, or selling products that are not as true sacrifices to redeem themselves.
