

Instructions for purchasing applications on Google Play do not need a visa card

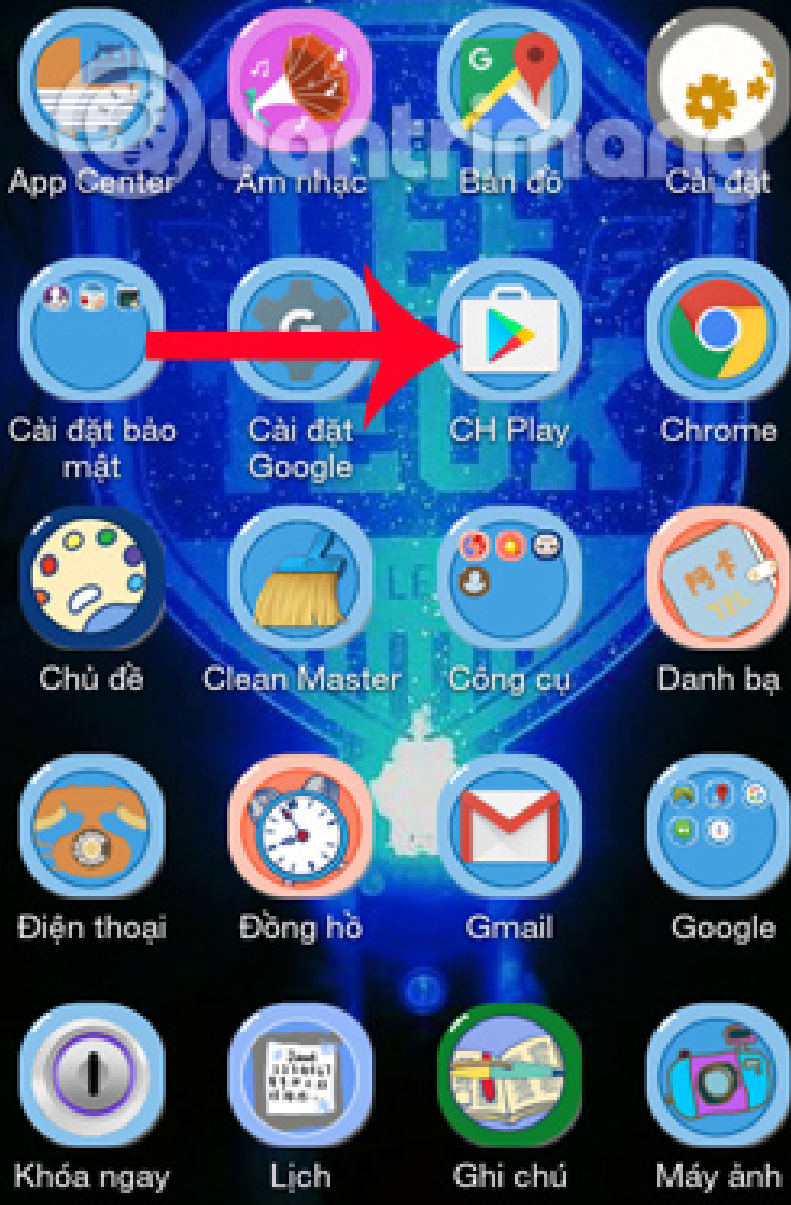

For those who use Viettel phone SIM, they can now register to buy applications and games on Google Play through the phone number they are using.

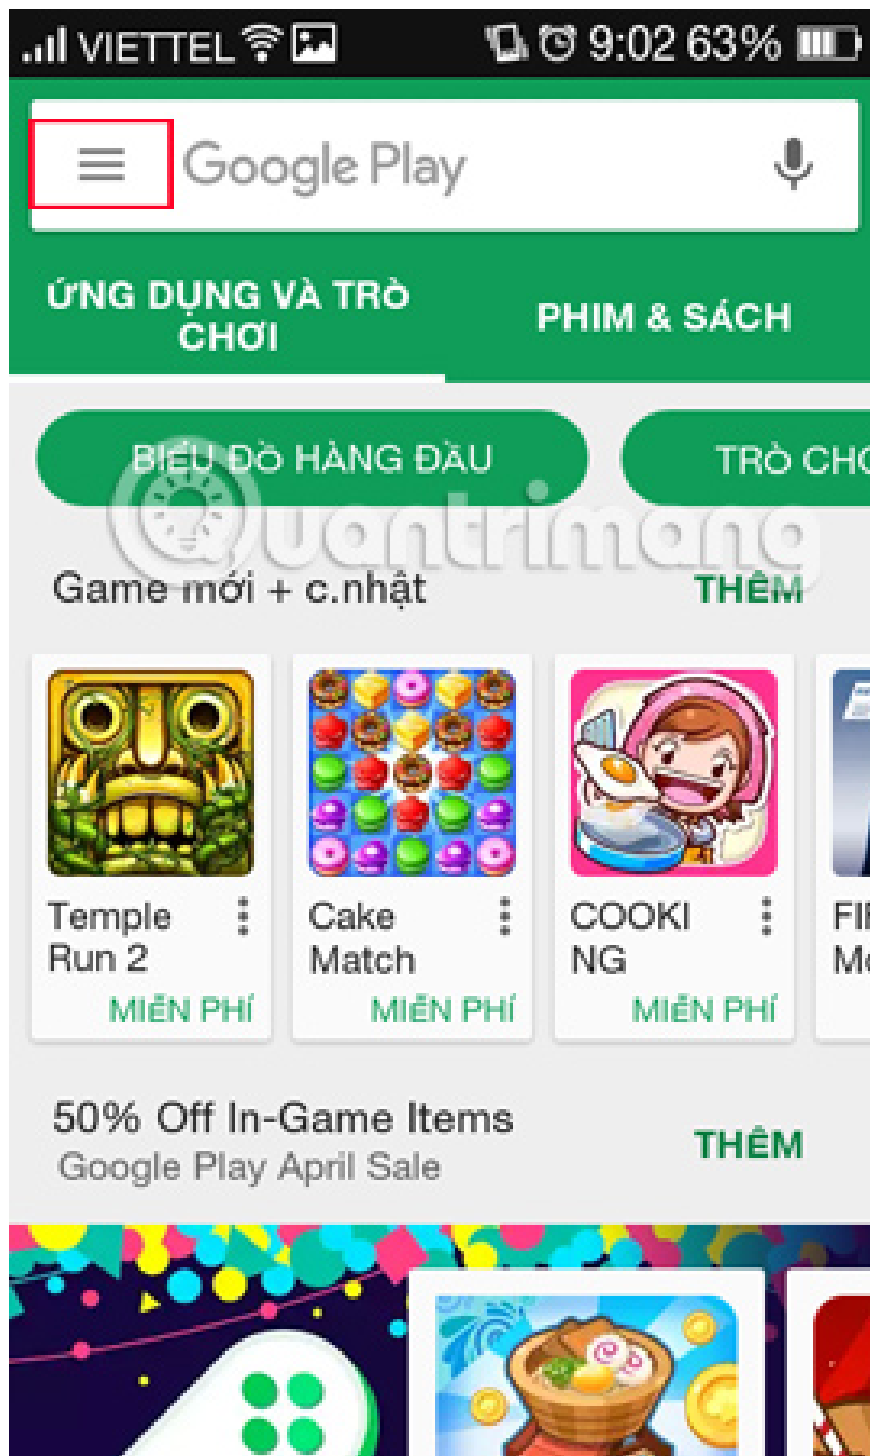

Usually to be able to buy paid apps or games on Google Play, we are required to use an international payment card. However, the registration of using international payment cards is a bit complicated for users. There is a much simpler way to be able to buy applications on Google Play, that is, with the phone accounts using SIM Viettel just need to register payment service through Viettel Telecom.

When registering to use this program, the amount of purchase of the app on Google Play will be deducted directly from the original account of prepaid subscribers, or bills of postpaid subscribers. We will not need to use payment cards, international credit cards, or install any other supporting software.

Step 1:

First of all, we will click on the CH Play icon at the main interface on the device. Then click on the three dashes icon to the left of the interface.

Step 2:

In the account settings list, click on the Account section . In the next interface, click Payment method to add a new app purchase method.

Step 3:

Here, we will click on Use payment via Viettel Telecom to activate this feature. In the absence of this option, proceed to turn WiFi or 3G off and on again, restart the computer. We wait for a few seconds to confirm and will receive a message from Viettel to notify you that you have subscribed to the Google Play app purchase service through Viettel mobile account.

In case you replace another SIM card with a registered phone, the system will send the authentication message and the transaction will be performed on the new SIM.

Next, users need to fill in their personal information in this interface. With Hanoi area, there will be a postal code of 100,000, TP. Ho Chi Minh City is 700000 or 760000. Finally click Save below to complete.

After returning to the Payment method interface, we will see that the newly registered payment section has been updated.
