Canva has now incorporated AI into its photo editing tools, allowing users to create richer images, such as changing the background of an image using AI based on your description. This helps us get the image we want with a more beautiful and satisfying background. Below is a guide on how to change the background of an image using Canva AI.

How to change the background of an image using Canva AI

Step 1:

Log in to your Canva Pro account, then upload the image you want to change the background of to Canva . Next, in the image editing options, click on the Background Maker tool .

Step 2:

Now you need to enter a description of the background you want to use and replace . You need to clearly describe the style of the background, whether the background's theme is based on the product or subject in the original image, what details are surrounding the background, the colors, composition, lighting used, etc.

The more detailed your description, the easier it is for Canva to analyze and create a new background for your image that perfectly matches your vision. Once you've entered your description, click the Create button below.

Step 3:

Now you will see that the background image has been changed to match the content you described, as shown in the image. There are 4 image options for you to choose from below.

If you're not satisfied with this image, click Recreate to add a different image.
