

Instructions on how to change the Gmail background image on a computer.

Gmail supports many beautiful wallpapers with different themes. Users can change the available wallpapers or use personal images uploaded to Google Photos.

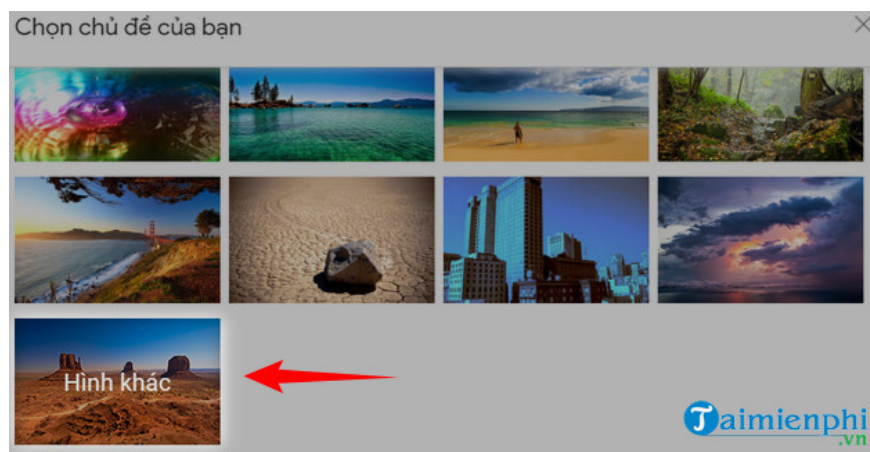

Changing the background image in your favorite apps is a great way to add more excitement to your work, and Gmail is no exception.

Instructions on how to change your Gmail background image.

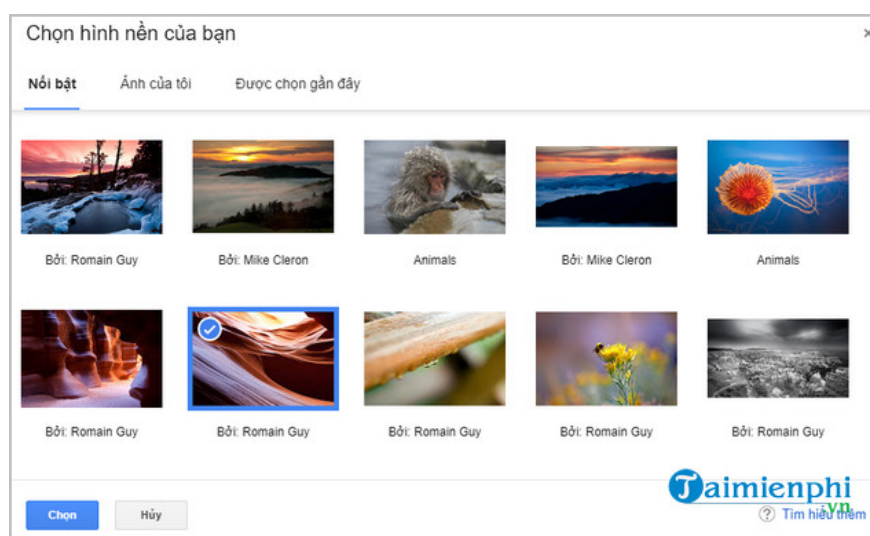

Step 1 : Go to Gmail.com, log in to your account => click the gear icon in the upper right corner. Select THEMES .

Step 2 : In the Choose Theme screen, you can select an image, background color, or drawing to use as the background for your inbox. If you want to see more, you can click on the More Images section.

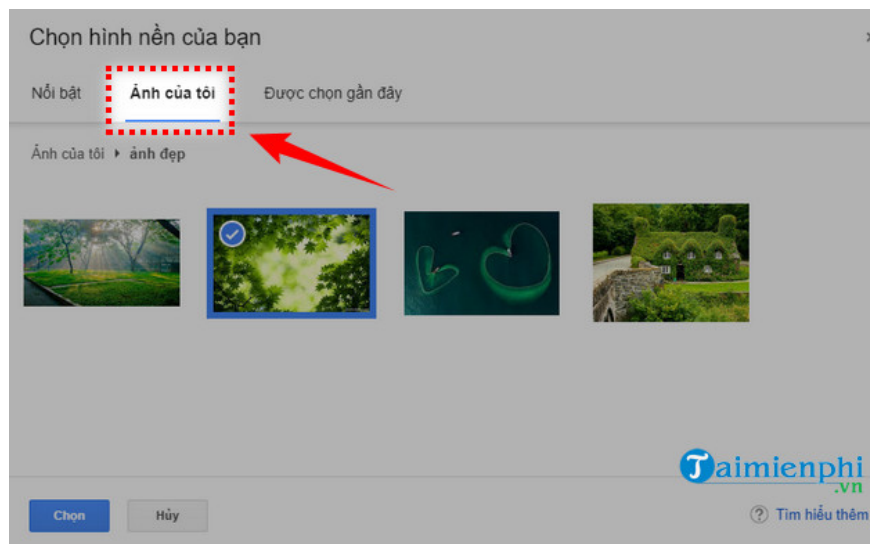

Step 3 : Here, you will see many other background images to set for Gmail. Alternatively, you can click on "My Photos" to select an image you've uploaded to Google Photos.

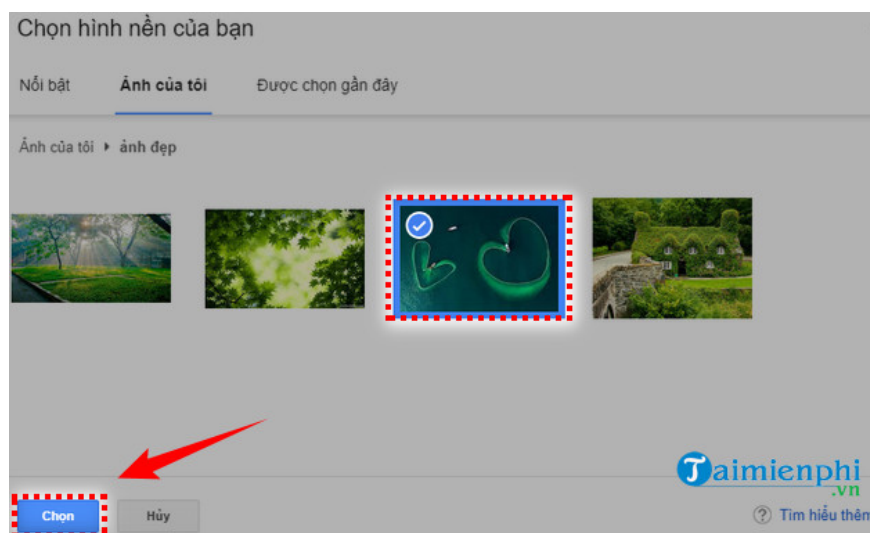

In the My Photos section, you'll see your profile picture and photo albums on Google Photos.

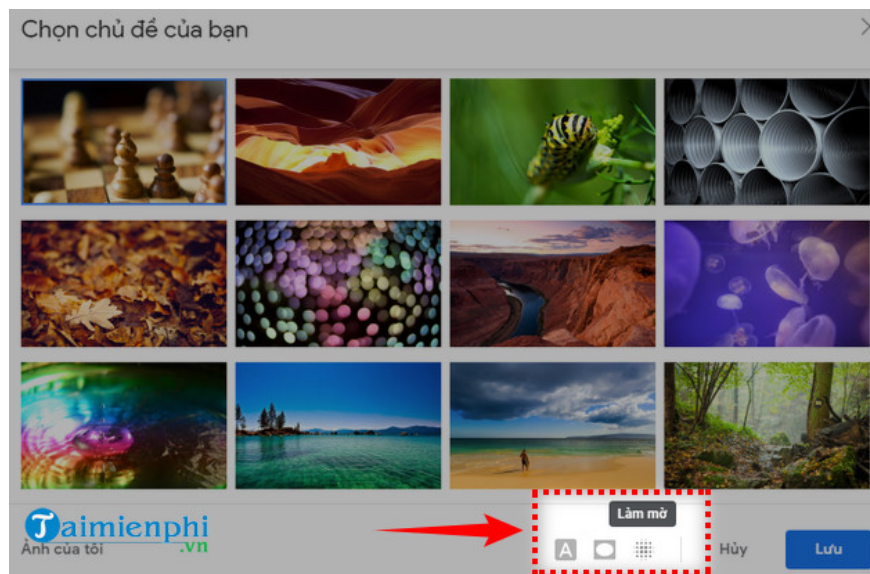

Click on the album containing the images you want to set as your wallpaper.

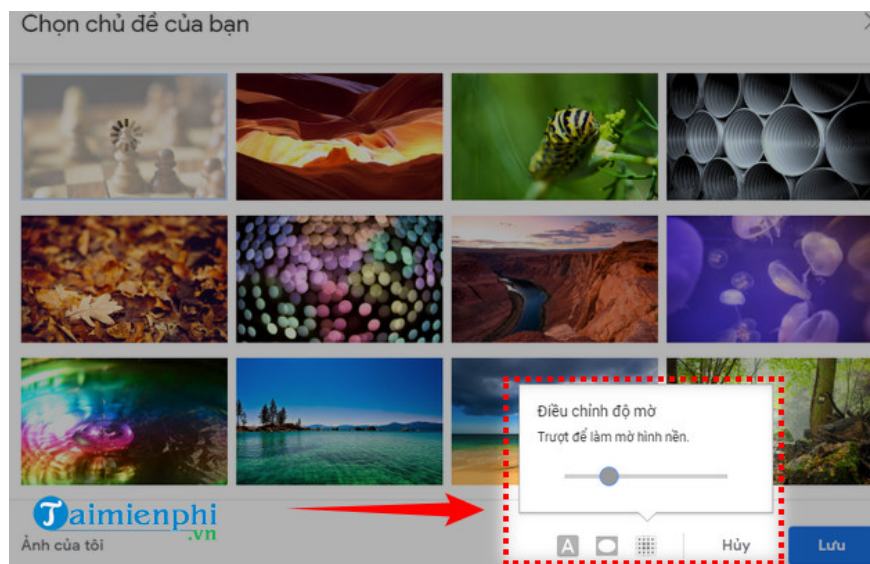

Choose an image for your Gmail theme and then click Select below.

Step 4 : Click on the background image you want to set for Gmail. You will then see that Gmail offers additional custom background options with background text, image blurring, or image fading at the bottom of the interface.

The adjustment slider allows you to customize the intensity of the elements, changing the strength as needed.

Step 5 : After selecting and editing the background image, click the Save button below to save the new background image for Gmail.
