How to make a lucky bracelet to give a Christmas gift

Step 1: If you want the bracelet to fit and be pretty, you must first measure the size of the bracelet to match the width you want. Then, use pliers to cut the length of the chain with the length you measured.

Measure and estimate bracelets.

Note: You should leave the chain length just enough for the wrist, because when the hook is added, the width will be extended.

Step 2: Connect the circle to the padlock at both ends.

This step is not difficult.

Step 3: Cut the ribbon that is twice as long as the length of the chain then slowly thread the wire from side to side as shown.

It is possible to use large or small ribbon wires.

Note: Tighten tightly when finished.

Step 4: Attach rivets from the middle of the rope, the maximum number is 3 - 4 nails for a bracelet. After mounting it, turn the lock to fix it.

The highlight of the main ring is the rivet.

Note: For the balance ring you need the base of the rivet to be even.

Step 5: Use fixed glue once more on each nail to make sure they won't get loose when you wear it.
