In the middle of a 'television' variety of models, sizes, . as it is today, it is difficult to choose a smart TV for families, especially for grandparents and elderly parents. Can see together with children and grandchildren. However, applying the following criteria, you will be easier to choose and will find the most suitable TV.

1. So and should not care what technologies on TV
2. 3 factors to keep in mind when buying Samsung TVs
3. Do you know what Bluetooth on TV is for?

1. A sharp 4K resolution TV, size from 43 - 49 inches

Compared to popular TV resolutions such as Full HD and HD, 4K resolution has superior advantages in terms of definition, especially when viewed on a large screen. Specifically, the 4K resolution on television for image definition is 4 times higher than Full HD TV, helping your family, especially the elderly with poor eyes and eyes, can enjoy every moment on television.

In addition, TV models ranging in size from 43 - 49 inches are best suited for watching movies and 4K videos. This size helps older people watch TV more clearly without having to squint or sit too close to the screen affecting health. It is possible that many readers here will wonder why not choose TVs that are larger than 50 inches to see clearly. It is true that it is more obvious, but it will cause eye strain, dizziness, and the widescreen is

4. Remote easy to use, TV with voice control

For the elderly, the simpler the faster, the more familiar and easy to use, the control of the TV with too many buttons will cause the elderly to work slowly, mistakenly press the buttons, . leading to no control of the TV in my opinion. To avoid this situation, you can refer to the models with compact remote, integrated voice control so that the whole family can be controlled as Samsung's One Remote, LG's Remote Magic, . .

5. Slim, compact TV is easy to hang on the wall

A thin, medium-sized TV that can be easily hung up is the perfect choice to help grandparents, parents and their children to watch or sit back, limit back pain, neck fatigue while watching TV continuously. long time.

Conclude:

If you choose to buy TV for your grandparents, older parents should explore the TVs with sharp 4K resolution, medium size range from 43 to 49 inches. Choose a television with a blue light filter to protect Panasonic's eyes or a TV with an easy-to-use interface, simple and durable design like LG TV is a pretty good suggestion.

If you choose to buy TV for the whole family for generations (see children, young people, older parents), you can consider larger screen TVs (from 50 inches or more) to watch for comfort, but be aware of the distance to watch TV to ensure health. A TV with a beautiful design, vivid and brilliant images like Samsung's TV is also an attractive option.
