

Instructions to stop receiving email notifications from Apple

Apple will email you with the latest information such as advertisements, product recommendations and updates, etc. You can stop receiving emails from Apple to avoid receiving spam emails.

Apple will also email you with the latest information such as advertisements, recommendations, and updates on Apple products, services, and software. Or we will quickly receive emails about exclusive content, special offers, advertisements and recommendations for apps, music, movies, TV, books, etc. However, such notification emails annoy you quite a lot, becoming spam emails affecting users. If so, you can stop receiving emails from Apple to not receive spam emails, like blocking email spam on Facebook, following the instructions below.

How to stop receiving information emails from Apple

Step 1:

First we need to log in to Apple's iCloud according to the link below. Here you enter your Apple ID account password.

Step 2:

Then you enter the verification code sent to your phone into the interface of the website. Next we will have access to the main interface of managing your iCloud account.

Step 3:

At the management interface we click on the account image and then select Manage Apple ID in the list displayed below.

Step 4:

Switch to the new interface, we look at the list on the left of the interface and then select Privacy to adjust .

Step 5:

Looking at the setting content next to it, you scroll down and then click on Messages from Apple .

Now you see 2 options to receive email notifications from Apple as shown below. You do not want to receive email notifications from any content, then uncheck that setting . Then click the Change button below to save.

You finished reading the article "Instructions to stop receiving email notifications from Apple" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.