

Instructions to turn off the feature to automatically run videos on Facebook Messenger

Do you find it annoying with the auto-turn on video feature on Facebook Messenger? If so, see how to disable it later!

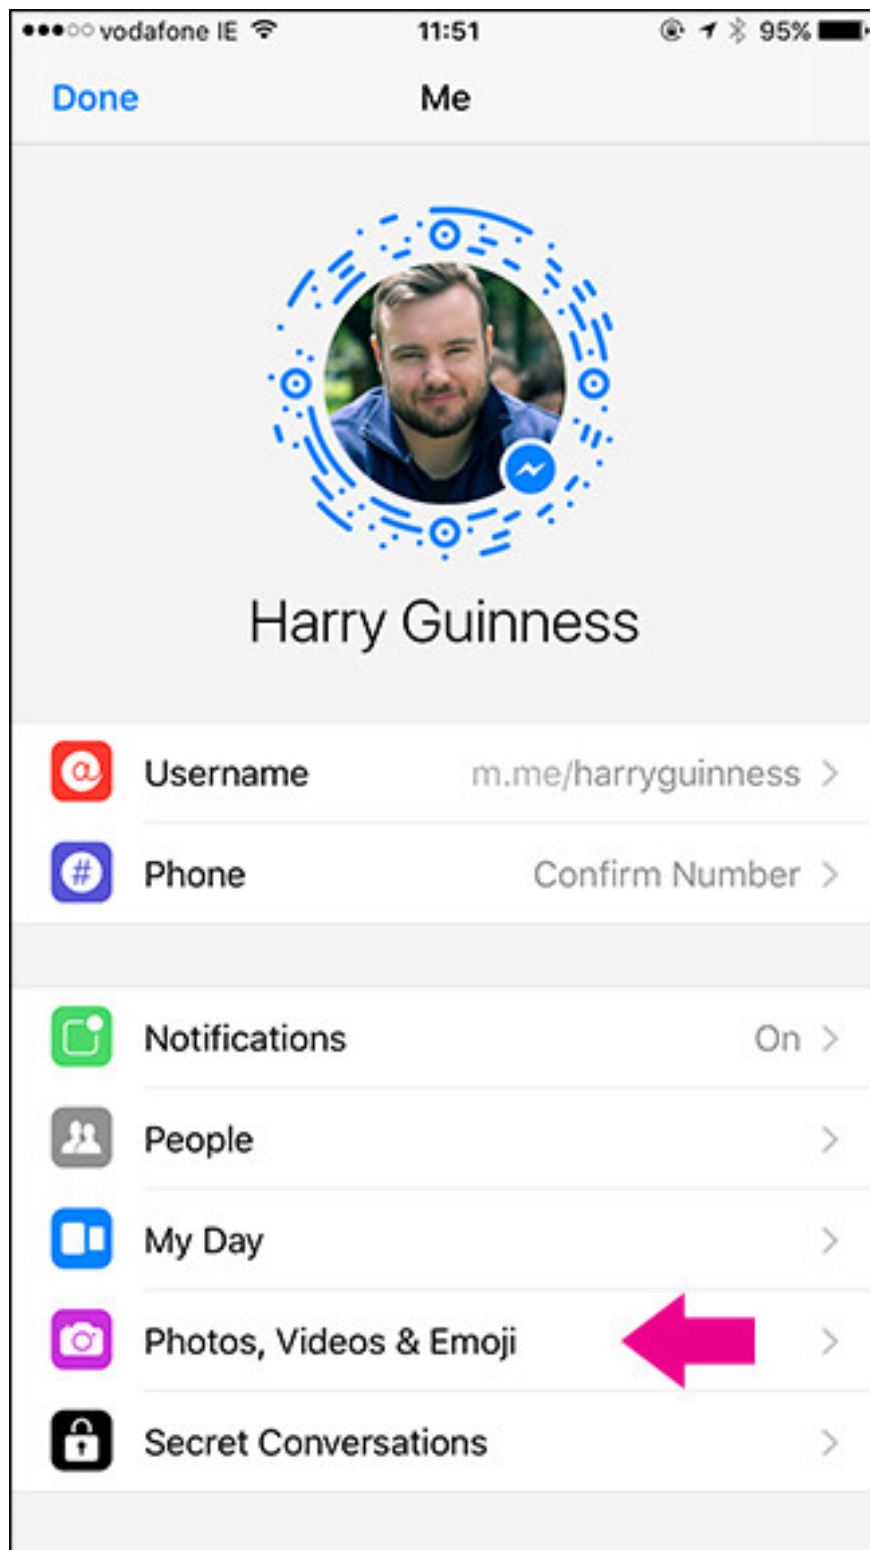

Automatic video playback is one of the most annoying features on social media and now it has been defaulted in Facebook Messenger. If you want to watch the video, you can press it to play it without Messenger deciding for you, so this is how to disable it.

NOTE: Currently, videos are only played automatically on iOS devices, so Android users will not see this feature. However, Facebook can add it to future Android devices so please save the tutorial and know later you need it.

Open Facebook Messenger and touch your avatar on the top left.

Then choose Photos, Videos & Emoji.

Select Auto-Play Videos and change it to Never Auto-Play Videos.

Me

Photos, Videos & Emoji

Download Videos

Wi-Fi only >

Auto-play Videos Mobile Data + Wi-Fi Connections >

Save to Camera Roll

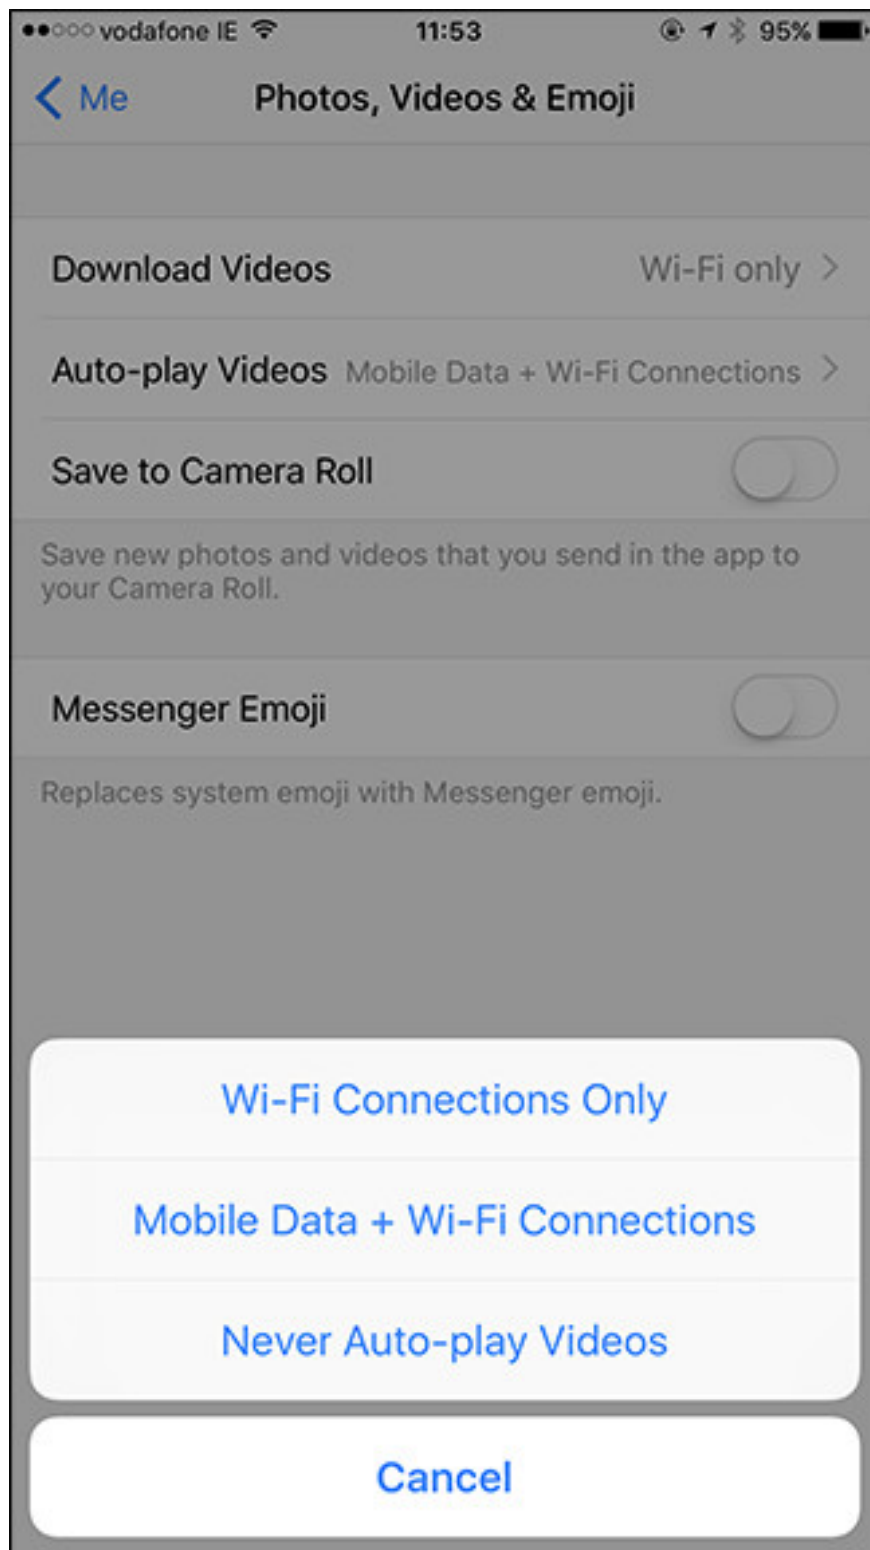

Save new photos and videos that you send in the app to your Camera Roll.

Messenger Emoji

Replaces system emoji with Messenger emoji.

So you will no longer see automatic videos turned on in Facebook Messenger. Hope you find this article useful, please share it with your friends.

You finished reading the article "Instructions to turn off the feature to automatically run videos on Facebook Messenger" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.

