With iOS 12 just released, Apple has allowed users to completely remove some applications preinstalled on iPhone or iPad.

With iOS 12 just released, Apple has allowed users to completely remove some applications preinstalled on iPhone or iPad. Previously, Apple limited to only deleting pre-installed apps from iOS's home screen. This big change will save the storage capacity of devices.

This is especially important for devices with a capacity of only 16GB. Because the capacity of iOS operating system has occupied more than 8GB of iPhone storage memory, the installation of additional applications is quite difficult.

List of preinstalled applications that can be deleted on iPhone running iOS 12 and later include:

1. Activity
  2. Apple Books
  3. Calculator
  4. Calendar
  5. Compass
  6. Contacts
  7. FaceTime
  8. Files
1. Find My Friends
  2. Home

3. iTunes Store
4. Mail
5. Maps
6. Measure
7. Music
8. Notes

1. Photo Booth
2. Podcasts
3. Reminders
4. Stocks
5. Tips
6. Videos / TV
7. Voice Memos
8. Watch
9. Weather

Important notes when deleting pre-installed apps on iPhone

1. Delete the Contacts app, all your contact information will remain in the Phone app.
2. Deleting FaceTime apps but with Contacts and Phone apps you can still make and receive FaceTime calls.
3. Delete applications Apple Books, Music, Maps or Podcast, you will not be able to use them with CarPlay.
4. Delete the Music app, you won't be able to use third-party apps or Apple apps on some car stereo systems or stereo reception systems to play audio content in its library.
5. Removing the Watch app from iPhone paired with an Apple Watch, you will receive a request to stop joining Apple Watch before you can delete the application.

The operation of deleting preinstalled applications from iPhone is similar to deleting any other applications:

Step 1: Touch the application icon to delete and hold until it shakes slightly.

Step 2: on the application icon, tap the "x" shaped button -> press "Delete".

How to reload deleted applications

If you want to reload the applications you want to delete, you can go to the App Store to search and proceed with the installation like any other application.
