

Is Minecraft or Roblox a better option?

Minecraft and Roblox are two of the top video game sandboxes. The following article will discuss the difference between Minecraft and Roblox so you can find out which game is best suited for you (or your children).

Minecraft and Roblox are two of the top video game sandboxes. They allow players, especially young people, to build worlds and games from things like digital Lego pieces, explore the world created by other players, adventure with friends. from the real world and people in the game.

But also, these two hit games are really different. The following article will discuss the difference between Minecraft and Roblox so you can find out which game is best suited for you (or your children).

Style play

Minecraft and Roblox are very different in terms of gameplay

Despite their similarities, Minecraft and Roblox have very different gameplay styles. Minecraft is a more single player game, focusing more on creating worlds using different building blocks in the game.

Roblox is a toolbox for creating games in many genres - shooters, strategy games, etc. So in Roblox, you have extremely popular games like Jailbreak, Natural Disaster Survival and Theme Park. Tycoon 2.

In short, Minecraft is the core of the crafting / building / survival game, while Roblox is a toolkit that separates the creators of the games and their players.

The price of Minecraft compared to Roblox

One major difference between the two games is a free option and the other option you'll have to pay to buy.

One major difference between the two games is a free option and the other option you'll have to pay to buy Minecraft Starter Pack, priced at $ 26.99 (621,000 VND), will give you access to all game content. You can get the Master Collection for around $ 50 (VND 1,115,000), some of the best community creations available, as well as 1,000 Minecoin. You use these Minecoin for in-game transactions.

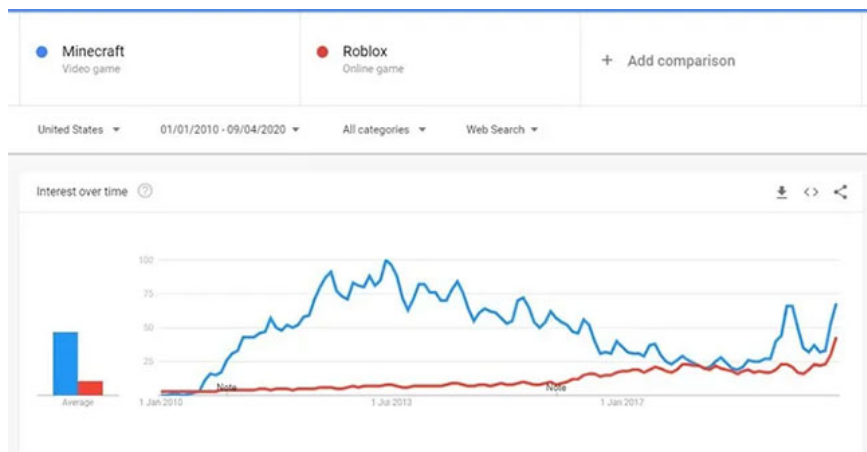

Roblox, on the other hand, is free but highly dependent on the in-game Robux virtual currency (which you buy with real money). Many games created in Roblox charge Robux for access, and there, there is not necessarily a need for quality control.

Most of the Roblox games aside from the most popular are still free. You can also sign up for Roblox Premium ($ 6 - $ 20 / 138,000 - 460,000 VND / month), giving you monthly Robux income and more trading options with players. Of course, those registration costs increased quite quickly.

Some players can even earn Robux in the game, which is then exchanged for real money, but that requires a lot of dedication and effort, something that normal players are hard to meet.

Popularity

Roblox has only become popular in recent years and has not been talked about much before, so there is a misconception that it appears after Minecraft or even an exorbitant version of Minecraft. The truth is that Roblox has been around since 2006, 3 years more than Minecraft (Minecraft appeared in 2009).

In August 2019 Roblox surpassed Minecraft's monthly level of 91 million users

However, Minecraft has been a more popular game for many years, but is declining since its peak in 2013. User interest in Minecraft and Roblox was nearly equal in 2017 and in August 2019 Roblox has surpassed Minecraft's monthly level of 91 million users, reaching the milestone of 100 million. In general, both games are very popular and you will have no trouble finding servers or games to play with Minecraft or Roblox.

Minecraft and Roblox are not the same as you think, right? If you choose Minecraft over Roblox and own a Raspberry Pi, then you can turn Pi into a Minecraft server!

You finished reading the article "Is Minecraft or Roblox a better option?" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.