

Is this an underground alien underground base in Antarctica?

Using Google Earth, people discovered two secret entrances in Antarctica. According to UFO hunters this may be the entrance of the underground military base or alien base. They even discovered that there was a flying disc-like object near the entrance to one of the two caves.

Using Google Earth, people discovered two secret entrances in Antarctica. According to UFO hunters this may be the entrance of the underground military base or alien base. They even discovered that there was a flying disc-like object near the entrance to one of the two caves.

1. Mysterious cosmic signals of aliens challenge the scientific world
2. NASA admits the spaceship was flying as fast as a bullet hit by UFOs

Two mysterious caves in Antarctica were discovered by Google Earth.(Photo: Internet).

But those who do not believe in the existence of aliens say that these are just ordinary caves, formed over time due to severe weather conditions in the area.

Video process of detecting two caves with Google Earth.

You finished reading the article "Is this an underground alien underground base in Antarctica?" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.