

Japanese carriers 'released the door', iPhone Lock users are allowed to go international for free

Recently, AU KDDI - a Japanese carrier has allowed users to unlock iPhone Lock completely free. This is good news for many users of iPhone Lock network AU KDDI in Vietnam.

Recently, AU KDDI - a Japanese operator has allowed users to unlock iPhones for free from these carriers. This is good news for many users of iPhone Lock network AU KDDI in Vietnam. Last year, another Japanese carrier, Docomo, also allowed free unlocking for eligible iPhones.

Like Docomo, the iPhone must meet the requirements of AU KDDI to be able to unlock successfully. Specifically:

1. iPhone belongs to network AU KDDI.
2. Applies to iPhone 6s and above.
3. The device is under warranty and has been activated (activated) for more than 100 days or has expired warranty. Users can access the Apple website by following the link and enter the iPhone's serial number to check.
