

Laptop for White Valentine's Day

White Day - White Valentine's Day is a celebrated holiday in Japan, Korea, Taiwan and several places in Europe on March 14, one month after the annual Valentine's Day. This day is for men to give gifts

Computer company MSI introduced the PR200 Beloved Edition laptop version for the White Valentine's Day March 14, 2008.

White Day - White Valentine's Day is a celebrated holiday in Japan, Korea, Taiwan and several places in Europe on March 14, one month after the annual Valentine's Day. This day is for men to give gifts to women to express their love or gratitude, admiration.

This special edition MSI PR200 computer has a white (or red) exterior and decorative patterns with a touch of aftertaste. It has a 12.1-inch display, dual-core Intel Core 2 Duo processor for 2.2GHz speed.

The MSI PR200 integrates a 1.3 megapixel camera for the need to send users' images, online videos over the network and an HDMI connector. No official information on prices and prices is available for this computer version, but users will definitely be able to own this computer before March 14, 2008.

You finished reading the article "Laptop for White Valentine's Day" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.