

Laptop Lenovo M490s average price more than 12 million

It uses Intel's third-generation processor with the choice of integrated graphics chip or discrete graphics card and is equipped with many security features.

It uses Intel's third-generation processor with the choice of integrated graphics chip or discrete graphics card and is equipped with many security features.

Lenovo's new product weighs nearly 2 kg. (Photo: Lenovo).

The Lenovo M490s weighs about 1.91 kg and is 2.29 cm thick. It uses Intel Core i3 Ivy Bridge processor and Dolby Advanced Audio v2 technology. Customers can choose to add Nvidia GeForce 710M discrete graphics with Optimus technology to save battery power by switching flexible operation between integrated graphics card and chip.

Lenovo's M490s laptop supports Wi-Fi and USB 3.0 standards. This model owns dual microphone with HD camera to help users make video calls easily.

Laptop M490s sold in Vietnam do not have a red version. (Photo: Lenovo).

For business features, the M490s has a fingerprint recognition system. In addition, the device also supports Lenovo Cloud Storage technology and SugarSync to backup and synchronize data on many different devices.

As expected, Lenovo M490s will be sold for VND 12.3 million for the Core i3 chip with integrated Intel HD Graphics chip. The machine is sold in two colors gray and black.

You finished reading the article "Laptop Lenovo M490s average price more than 12 million" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.