

Laptop shell made from Asus bamboo

Asus's new U-Bamboo line of laptops is unique with a shell made from environmentally friendly bamboo and easily recyclable.

Asus's new U-Bamboo line of laptops is unique with a shell made from environmentally friendly bamboo and easily recyclable.

U-Bamboo series includes models full of screen sizes of 13.3 inches, 14.1 inches and 15.6 inches. Material made of this laptop is from bamboo and other recycled materials.

Asus U-Bamboo series. (Photo: Engadget) .

U-Bamboo series is highly configurable with the use of Intel Core i5-450M processor, Nvidia GeForce 310M graphics card with 1GB VRAM and other USB 3.0 support features for about 1,288 to 1,351 USD next June

In addition to U-Bamboo series, Asus also introduced the NX90 laptop series with the first model NX90JQ using Intel Core i7-720QM processor, Nvidia Geforce 334M graphics card with 1GB VRAM, 1TB hard drive, upgraded DDR3 RAM up to 8GB and especially the Sonic Master audio system are the result of a partnership between Asus and the famous speaker company Bang & Olufsen.

NX90JQ weighs 4.4 kg, will be sold in July next for a price not cheap, about 2,680 USD.

Asus NX90JQ. (Photo: Engadget) .

Along with the two high-end models, Asus also introduced other models including the N53Jh with 15.6-inch screen priced at about $ 1,500 and the U series models are U35 with 13.3-inch and U45 screens with 14.4-inch screen costs $ 1,195 and $ 1,260 respectively.

Actual photo U-Bamboo series

Actual photo Asus NX90JQ

You finished reading the article "Laptop shell made from Asus bamboo" edited by the TipsMake team. We hope this article has provided you with many useful tech tips and tricks. You can search for similar articles on tips and guides. Thank you for reading and for following us regularly.
